

HAUNTED HAPPENINGS

If you're ready to warp, catch the campy, trashy movie that is usually shown at midnight and has acquired a devoted group of followers who dress up as characters in the film and act it out.

2

Ghouls, goblins, and ... Richard Nixon? No, this list is not an association game, it is merely a sampling of the hundreds of masks available to party-goers this Halloween.

3

Better get your vocal chords in shape and prepare to scream. The zombies, witches and goblins at a local haunted house are prepared to spook visitors in more ways than one.

4

Children are beginning their annual search for that "perfect pumpkin," the largest candy-holding pillowcase in the house and the wildest outfit to scare the neighbors.

5

If you came home last year with rot-your-teeth-in-a-matter-of-minutes candy, you might want to check out the top-ten Halloween movies guaranteed to scare even the faint of heart.

7