OUTSTANDING OPPORTUNITY FOR ALL OREGONIANS OF COLOR (HIGH SCHOOL, COLLEGE STUDENT, CAREER CHANGER)

MINORITY GRADUATE FAIRE

CONSIDERING LAW SCHOOL?
THOUGHT ABOUT GETTING AN MBA?
ASKED YOURSELF, "CAN I AFFORD TO GO TO GRADUATE SCHOOL?"
WONDERED ABOUT WHAT CAREERS GRADUATE STUDIES IN ARCHITECTURE, ENGLISH, EDUCATION, ARTS, SCIENCES, OR JOURNALISM CAN OFFER YOU?
HAVE OTHER QUESTIONS RELATED TO GRADUATE STUDIES?

Our conference will feature panels of professionals in many fields sharing their educational and professional experiences with the audience. Our keynote speaker will be Dr. John Slaughter, President of Occidental College in Los Angeles, former Director of the National Science Foundation. He will speak about the importance of graduate education for minorities from 1:00-2:00 p.m. Exhibit tables staffed by faculty and students from UO will offer information about the University of Oregon's graduate programs and departments as well as information concerning admission (undergraduate and graduate), financial aid, testing, housing and minority support services.

DATE: Saturday, November 14th, 1992
LOCATION: University of Oregon School of Law
TIME: 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.
COST: This is a FREE event which includes a complimentary lunch to the first 200 registrants, hosted by the University of Oregon.
