Karros top NL rookie

NEW YORK (AP) — Eric Karros, who nearly played his way out of the Los Angeles Dodgers organization, was selected the National League Rookie of the Year on Tuesday.

The husky Los Angeles first baseman was chosen first on 22 of the 24 ballots and received 116 points overall from the Baseball Writers Association of America. Montreal outfielder Moises Alou was the runner-up with two first-place votes and 30 points, followed by Pittsburgh knuckleballer Tim Wakefield with 29 points.

Karros hit .257 with 20 homers and 88 RBIs. His home run total was the highest by a Dodgers rookie since Greg Brock hit 20 in 1983, and his RBIs surpassed Ron Cey's Los Angeles rookie record of 80, set in 1973. Karros also led all rookies this season with 30 doubles.

After getting one hit in 14 at-bats for the Dodgers at the end of the 1991 season, Karros went to winter ball in Caracas, Venezuela, instead of completing the 16 credits left on his economics degree at UCLA.

Karros hit .113 with six RBIs and no extra-base hits in Venezuela and was released three weeks later.

Oregon forward quits

Oregon men's basketball coach Jerry Green announced Tuesday that junior Eric van der Veen has left the team.

Van der Veen, a 6-foot-8 forward, is leaving to play basketball at a smaller school to complete his two years of eligibility. He is a native of The Netherlands and played at Mead High School in Spokane, Wash., before signing with the Ducks.

Neither Green nor van der Veen could be reached for comment.

EDWARD ALDWELL
THE WELL-TEMPERED CLAVIER, BOOK II

Ten years ago an out-of-tuned pianist named Edward Aldwell gave the first of his now-legendary Bach recitals at New York's Merkin Hall. People who attended to be thrilled, lined up at the piano at intermission to tell their friends to drop what they were doing and rush over to hear what was happening.
Today, ten years later, the same pianist is back in town. On a program of the exalted composer's most difficult Bach interpretations, Richard Tognatta and Glenn Gould.
Aldwell's Bach is boldly intricate, stunningly local. A concert for those who like their music intimate, full and rapturous.
