Netters face Pac-10 elite this weekend

Two of the top volleyball teams in the nation, UCLA and USC, will make their lone McArthur Court appearances of the season this weekend. The Ducks meet the Trojans Friday and the Bruins Saturday, with both matches beginning at 7 p.m.

USC, ranked tenth in the country, is the surprise team in the Pacific-10 Conference this season. The Trojans have a solid hold on third place with a 9-4 record and seem to be a lock for an NCAA tournament bid.

UCLA is the premiere team in the country, sporting a 20-0 record coming into weekend matches with Oregon State and Oregon. UCLA has won the last two NCAA championships and will make a bid to become the first team to win three consecutive titles when the NCAA tournament begins in three weeks.

After playing well against the Arizona schools three weeks ago, the Ducks are now in the midst of a three-match losing streak which included a tough five-game loss to Oregon State in Corvallis. Oregon is tied with Oregon State and Arizona for last place in the Pac-10 with a 2-10 record.
