Oregon football fans can start canceling their hotel reservations in Shreveport and Tucson, as UCLA crushed the Ducks' bowl hopes on Saturday with a 9-6 victory at Autzen Stadium.

Bruin kicker Louis Perez booted a 40-yard field goal as time expired to give UCLA the victory and up its record to 5-5 overall and 2-5 in the Pacific-10 Conference.

"This was an unbelievably dramatic football game," UCLA head coach Terry Donahue said. "It's a very satisfying win, and I'm proud of my team. We didn't quit and ultimately found a way to win."

With the game tied 6-6, Oregon had a chance to take the lead with 3:17 left, but reliable kicker Tommy Thompson missed a 19-yard field goal.

"Everything was fine, but the kick was bad," Thompson said. "There was nothing right about the kick. There was a little angle on the kick, but it should have been down the middle. That one wouldn't have hit from anywhere. I could go out there right now and make that kick 100 out of 100 times."

The Ducks led 6-0 entering the fourth quarter, and with the defense playing well, Oregon head coach Rich Brooks elected to punt on fourth and one at the UCLA 44-yard line with 12:55 left in the game. Thompson's punt bounced at the one-yard line, but a group of Ducks misplayed the ball and let it bounce into the end zone for a touchback.

UCLA took over at the 20-yard line, but the Bruins were pushed back to a third down and 19 from the UCLA 11 when running back Kevin Williams scampered 25 yards for a first down.

"We were in the Hawk defense, which is pass orientated," Oregon linebacker Joe Farwell said. "Once they lined up, I could tell they were going to run; I got a hand on him but couldn't bring him
