showing tonight."

In the beginning, it looked as if the doubters would be justified as Idaho pounded the ball inside at will to take an early 14-8 lead. Ten of those points came on easy lay-ins.

Green wasn't happy with his team's start and he let them know it.

"We started lackadaisical," Green said. "I had to jump on 'em at the eight-minute mark."

The Ducks responded well to Green's attack, as they went on 14-2 run to take a 22-16 lead. Eight straight free throws by Stoudamire to end the half put Oregon up 38-25 at halftime.

The Ducks were able to keep the lead above 10 points for much of the second half, but the Vandals were able to cut the lead down to five with 10 minutes left in the game. At that point, Green called another timeout, determined not to let his team lose another one.

"We hit a spell and started going one-on-one again," Green said. "They cut our lead from 12 to five, so I had to jump on 'em again. The rest of the game, we played very well."

Oregon came out of the time-out and went on an 8-2 run and led 58-47 at the nine minute mark. Vandal sharpshooter Marvin Ricks hit two three-pointers to cut the lead to 60-53, but the Ducks had some luck thrown their way when Ricks was forced to come out of the game after receiving an unintentional shot to his bottom lip.

Leading 63-57, Oregon turned up its game going on a 13-0 run to seal the victory. The Ducks defense held Idaho to only two field goals in the final eight minutes.

Idaho as a team shot only 32 percent from the field. Vandal head coach Larry Eustachy said he couldn't believe how his team played.

"That was probably the poorest performance since I've coached here," he said. "When a guy goes two for 17, that puts a big whack in your percentage."

Oregon forward Clyde Jordan hit seven of eight shots to finish with 15 points and center Bob Fife had 16 points.

The Ducks play Pacific Lutheran Dec. 19.

goal shooting where Oregon struggled at 43 percent, still much better than Weber State's 31 percent. Oregon committed 18 turnovers but forced the Wildcats to turn the ball over 35 times. The Ducks had 15 steals compared to Weber State's two.

The team now has a week to rest before a game with Louisville Saturday night at Mac Court. But the Ducks will have little time to practice due to finals this week.
