

SPRING BREAK ISSUE

The National College Magazine

AN AMERICAN COLLEGIATE NETWORK, INC. PUBLICATION

STUDENT LIFE

Just joshing

Treachery, creativity and a sense of humor are critical in pulling off the sweetest pranks of all time, from a thousand wayward pink flamingos to a campus dome disguised as a breast. / Page 10

SPORTS

Hopeful hoop stars

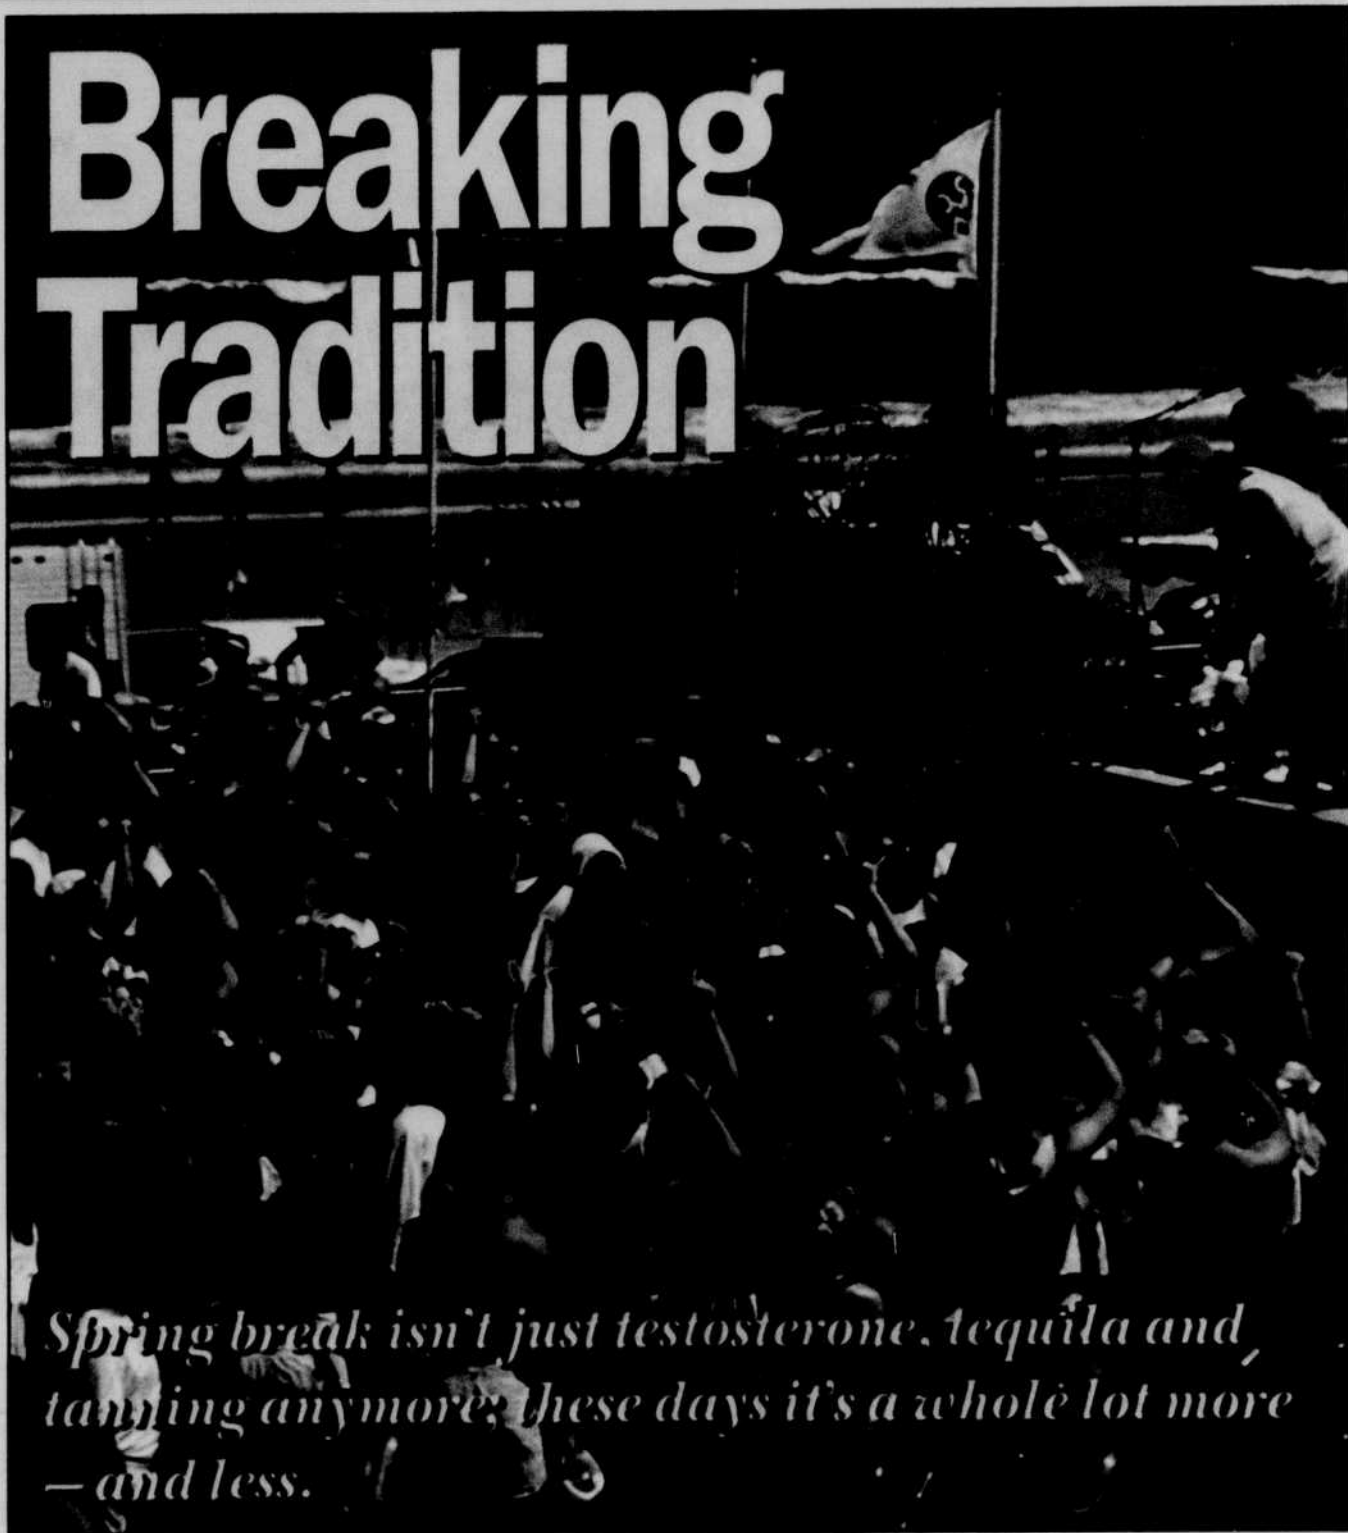

After nearly capturing the NCAA title last season, U. of Michigan's heralded basketball quintet, The Fab Five, is back for more. And with controversy behind them, they've got their eyes on the prize. / Page 12

IN ENTERTAINMENT

Baring it all

Is an NC-17 rating a cinematic kiss of death at the box office? Films like Madonna's latest — Body of Evidence — are cutting racy scenes to avoid the label and secure a healthy profit margin. / Page 22

Breaking Tradition

Spring break isn't just testosterone, tequila and tanning anymore; these days it's a whole lot more — and less.

Gays and lesbians have rights, and they won't let you forget it — Page 9
