STUDY ABROAD
Applications due March 1

CHINA: This fall-semester program at the Central Institute for Nationalities offers intensive study of Chinese and a chance to learn about China's minority peoples. The program includes a three-week study tour of one of China's minority regions.

ECUADOR: During the fall term, Spanish language and Latin American studies courses are offered at the Catholic University of Ecuador. Students who remain for the spring semester take regular university classes and/or work on internships.

HUNGARY: No previous study of Hungarian is required for this program that emphasizes Hungarian culture and society. All levels of language instruction are offered.

INDONESIA: Semester-long programs in Indonesian language, history, development studies, or literature are offered throughout the Council on International Educational Exchange (CIEE). The academic program is supplemented with field trips and short excursions.

JAPAN: Waseda University's International Division offers a variety of courses in Asian studies that are taught in English. Participants must have one year of college-level Japanese.

NORWAY: Students with two years of Norwegian are eligible for a semester or a year-long exchange program at the University of Bergen.

SPAIN: A fall or spring semester program for business majors is available through CIEE. Three years of college-level Spanish are required.

SWEDEN: Students with two years of Swedish may study at Uppsala University, one of Europe's oldest and finest universities.
