TYPES OF AIRFARES

Student/youth fares are negotiated by Council Travel and other student organizations to offer flexibility and low price to students, recent graduates and those under 26. These fares are available on regularly scheduled international carriers.

Youth fares offered by major airlines are another type of discounted fare available to those under 26.

Apex fares have a 3- to 21-day advance purchase requirement, and they usually require a stay of 3 to 14 days minimum and 30 to 90 days maximum.

Sale fares are advertised by major airlines. Seats for these fares are limited and popular dates can sell out quickly.

Charter fares usually can be purchased up to the last minute, if available, at low cost. Destinations tend to be limited to Western European cities such as London or Paris.
