Sound Protection

The Quorum™ Personal Attack Alarm blasts an ear piercing 107db alarm at anyone you sense danger from. Wear it on your belt or purse - pull the pin if you must.

Ideal for students, joggers, travellers, shoppers, public transit riders, late shift workers, seniors, women and the person who wants to keep everything.

Don't take a chance of having your mace or pepper spray used against you - just pull the cord. This should cause the offender to disperse, plus bring attention and assistance from other people within audible range. You won't have to hunt for your spray or harm another to protect yourself!

Women hoopsters to face surprising Beavs

The Oregon women's basketball team will travel to Corvallis tonight in hopes of continuing its domination in the Civil War.

The Ducks (3-12) have a 33-14 advantage over the Beavs, including 12 wins in 14 games since the two teams joined the Pacific-10 Conference in 1984. However, the Beavs have been the surprise of the Pac-10 this season with a talented, young squad that beat the Ducks 67-63 in Eugene earlier this season.

The Beavs are led by Tanja Kostic, a freshman from Solna, Sweden, who is third in the conference with 19.3 points per game and fifth in rebounds with 8.6 per game. Two other freshmen start for Oregon State, including Anette Mollerstrom, second on the team with 14 points per game.

The Beavs were picked to finish 10th in the Pac-10 according to a pre-season coaches poll, but they are 7-8 in the Pac-10 and only one-half game out of fifth place.

"The fact we are playing Oregon State, the question of motivation should not be a factor," Oregon head coach Elwin Heiny said. "I think the team remembers the earlier loss, and I hope that several players will want to play better this time around than they did the last time."

Oregon forward Debbie Sporcich currently ranks ninth in the conference in scoring and fifth in rebounding, with marks of 15.1 and 8.6, respectively. Sporcich is second in the Pac-10 with a 61.1 field goal percentage and is on pace to break the Oregon record of 60.5 percent held by assistant coach Stefanie Kasperski.
