

Dave Estoye - Igmee

The folks at Tomorrow's Comics asked me to say a few things about myself. But instead of telling you who I am, it would be more revealing if I told you who I'm not. I'm not a flannel-shirt-on-top-of-turtleneck-wearin', jeans saggin', light beer sippin', two-tone haircut-sportin', fake-Doc-Martens steppin', Calvin-n-Hobbes-t-shirt makin', Grateful-Dead-sticker-on-Daddy's-Beamer-drivin', talking-only-to-sorority-girls-with-straight-hair-scamin', lame-o frat boy punk. Thanks. I just wanted to clear that up.

Bob Berry - Making the Grade

Hi there,

First off, I'd like to thank Tomorrow's Comics for giving me a chance to say a word or two about me and my cartoon strip. I'd also like to thank those of you who took the time to write to Tomorrow's Comics about your favorite comics. But first, I need a little help.

It's about the Andy Griffith show. Does anybody remember how many woman Andy seriously dated? I say there were only three: 1) Peggy, 2) Ellie Walker, and 3) Helen Crump, whom he ended up marrying. My wife says there were four, but she can't think of the other woman's name. (Yeah, I'm fallin' for that one.) So if anybody knows for sure, please drop Tomorrow's Comics a line and lemme know. Thanks.

P.S. (He should've married Peggy!)

Jay Hosler - Spelunker

When I was asked to write a few words to the readers of Tomorrow's Comics, I was flattered. Then I was unnerved. I mean, I'm not used to writing anything that doesn't have silly pictures associated with it. What if I sound like some self-absorbed pretentious hack? Or worse, a big, goofy geek? Of course, before I could worry any more about that, I realized I only had enough room in my allotted space to thank you all for reading. Unfortunately, that left me no room to thank you all for the valuable feedback. Dang.

Wayne Windhaus - Mooseman

To the readers of Tomorrow's Comics: I urge you to live by the credo of the Moose, "Never think when you can react." To those who have expressed an appreciation for Mooseman, I would like to extend my gratitude by offering this timely suggestion - Seek Competent Professional Help!

Thanks again for the encouragement and support.

Thomas H. Burton - Leadbellies

I would like to thank the people at Argonaut Entertainment for making it possible for unsyndicated cartoonists like myself to have a first class publication to showcase our work nationally. I would especially like to thank the readers of Tomorrow's Comics for taking the time to send in your opinions and comments to all of the creators. This feedback is vital to us in gauging our work. I have personally been overwhelmed by the positive feedback that I've received for "Leadbellies," and a bit humbled by some of the others. (Ahem!?) It's good to know that there is an audience for my feature and the fact that I'm not the only one who needs to be locked in a room in front of a stack of ink blots! I wish you all the best and hope you continue to read Tomorrow's Comics - and to keep those comments coming in!

Kelly Kennedy - Dagney

Hello to all of you who read and enjoy my strip "Dagney." In some ways, if you're familiar with the strip, you already know me - I'm like a combination of all the characters mixed together - one day, I'm stuck going to an accordion music festival, the next, I'm trying to get the love and respect of the people that hate me. I guess I'm just one of those people who wish they could live in Bedford Falls with Jimmy Stewart. But since I can't, there's always this little comic world I can go to whenever I feel like it - and believe me, you're a welcome guest anytime you'd like to visit.

Have a Great Summer!

See You Next Year!

TC Syllabus: Required Reading

The Art of Living	3, 4, & 5
The Brass & Fern	6 & 7
Making the Grade	8 & 9
Spelunker	10 & 11
Chicken Bird	12 & 13
Dagney	14 & 15
Igmee	16 & 17
Leadbellies	18 & 19
Mooseman	20
Everything's O.K.	21