

Indian tribal leader may be extradited

TACOMA (AP) — A Puyallup Indian tribal leader who was stopped for a dead headlight faces extradition on a 21-year-old warrant for escaping from an Oregon prison.

Charles Conway, director of a program to assist needy tribal members to pay for heat and electricity, faces an extradition hearing Tuesday in Pierce County Superior Court.

Conway was arrested last month after being stopped by a Washington State Patrol officer in Tacoma. The officer ran a computer check and found the outstanding warrant from Oregon.

Conway, 52, was outside Oregon State Penitentiary for a speaking engagement in 1972 when he returned to his home in Tacoma rather than to the prison. He had served eight months of a seven-year prison sentence for a 1968 larceny conviction.

"I was living a great life," Conway said Friday in a brief interview with The Morning News Tribune. Now, "it's shattered. Absolutely shattered."

Friends and community members, however, are fighting to keep him from returning to prison. The Puyallup Tribal Council last week approved a resolution asking Oregon Gov. Barbara Roberts to pardon Conway.

In 1973, Conway was arrested on the Oregon escape warrant. However, the Washington state attorney general recommended against his extradition.

Fatally wounded actor buried next to father

SEATTLE (AP) — Brandon Lee, the actor son of martial-arts star Bruce Lee, has been buried next to his father.

Brandon Lee's mother, Linda Cadwell, spoke for 10 to 15 minutes "about his life and how dearly he loved his father," said Taky Kimura, a family friend who attended the Saturday service at Lake View Cemetery.

Lee died Wednesday after he was shot in Wilmington, N.C., with a movie-set prop gun that was supposed to be loaded with blanks. An autopsy showed he was killed by a .44-caliber bullet.

In the film, Lee played a rock 'n' roll star who is murdered by a gang and then comes back to life with supernatural powers to avenge his death.

About 100 people showed up for the private ceremony Saturday, Kimura said. Afterwards, family and friends left for a memorial service scheduled Sunday in Los Angeles, he said.

Bruce Lee, who grew up in Seattle, died at age 32 in Hong Kong of acute cerebral edema, possibly an allergic reaction to a prescription painkiller. His last complete film, Enter the Dragon, grossed more than $100 million.
