

ance Committee, I have been a dorm Treasurer, and competed in intercollegiate sports and intramural sports. I am planning to attend law school. I feel that I have adequate background of the many different facets of campus life to sufficiently represent student interests.

Ginger Gord

Background: I am currently working as a Desk Assistant in Hamilton Complex. I have studied at the U of O for two years, and last year I voted. (big surprise!)

Senate Interests: I'd like to deal realistically with the fallout from Measure 5 and the impending cuts. We must deal with money shortfalls and maintain good student-faculty ratios. As a Senator I will be determined to work with students and faculty to solve problems and issues. Working Style: I don't like to force my ideas on others, but rather look at the issues and options and then work together to resolve them. I believe I can represent the students in the Science department well, be being available to hear their concerns and standing up for them in the Senate. I am dedicated to the work I choose, and if elected, will participate to the fullest.

Jennifer A. Williamson

Hello, my name is Jennifer Williamson and I am running for the Student Senate. I want the position of Senator because I know I can make a difference on this campus. I believe in a Liberal Arts education in the true sense of the words. Our education should reflect the world in which we live. The curriculum that U of O offers to its students should provide us with skills, knowledge and open-mindedness that we need to comprehend the intricacies of the world in which we interact. I have the experience to be a valuable part of a Senate that will ensure a quality education for the students of the University in the face of Measure 5. I am currently serving on the Student Health Center Advisory Board. This position has given me the opportunity to work with other student leaders. I also believe that safety on this campus should be a major concern to the Student Senate. Working for Project Saferide has made me more aware of the lack of safety of students. I know that the experience I have will make me a quality Senator for the students of the U of O.

Carrissa J. Callison

The Student Senate makes up two-thirds of the University of Oregon's Senate. The Senate is responsible for setting University policies, many of which have a direct impact on the student body.

Through serving on the student Senate I would be able to help students through relating their concerns to the University faculty and administration.

There is no better means by which to effect University policy making process. The Student Senate gives this opportunity to any student who is willing to spend a little time and energy to talk, listen, and propose ideas and solutions.

I believe I would be an effective voice of the students because I am not afraid to talk to other students, and most importantly I'm not afraid of standing up for what I believe is right when it comes to working with faculty and administration to form University policy.

Zachary James Kelton

It is difficult to explain the many reasons why I am running for a second year on Student Senate in such a small space, so I will focus on the key element that has brought me to this decision. At the end of this term I will have been a Student Senator for one year, and the one thing that has been proven to me again and again on the Senate is that when students become involved, anything is possible. Members of the Senate are able to set and change policy and exert a great deal of influence on the University, and I feel that my experience, my imagination and my drive to see ideas through qualifies me to sit on the Senate that will address concerns affecting everyone, ranging from the continued effects of Measure 5 to campus safety, as well as helping students with individual grievances.

Charles Fletcher III

The Student Senate is the true representative of the student body. As a member it would be my goal to work actively not only to represent my major, but to represent the general interests of all students. I would hope to accomplish this by working with the various student unions in an attempt to make the University culturally diverse, yet unified as the student body. My goals also include communication all aspects of the University community, from the Incidental Fee Committee to the Inter-Fraternity Council and beyond. I realize that it is almost impossible for one person to try to change anything on their own, however, I hope to work with other individuals who realize the potential that our University can achieve.

Jesse Bohrer-Clancy

Hello, My name is Jesse Bohrer-Clancy and this campus needs to LIGHTEN UP! This place is dead! What's anybody around here do for fun anyway? Get drunk, oh that's original. And when was the last time anyone pulled a good prank around here without any major property damage, like fumigating the EMU with nitrous oxide (laughing gas). Now that would be absolutely hilarious. Or rig the campus radio station to broadcast polka music for 24 hours a day. It seems the only people on campus with any sense of humor is the Oregon Commentator staff, and they're Republicans!

The entire ASUO office is consistently uptight along with the IFC and OPS (yes, I do mean those wild and always wacky OPS officers whose entire mission in life is to bust YOU for riding your bike when you shouldn't be). Where is the joy in their dreary lives, what ever happened to that warm fuzzy little duck on your tuition payment envelope. I think he died. So lets give that little water fowl mouth-to-mouth and get this school back where it should be, the place where Animal House was filmed. Elect me and maybe something could happen, who knows, but at least I'll try. And if you don't elect me, oh well, there's always next year. Remember - Vote early and vote often.

Amy Neitzel

My background is high school honor society; Students for Peace through Global Responsibility; member of Amnesty International; member of Students for Choice. I was also recently selected to be a facilitator for a Women's Studies 101 class. I lead a small group discussion and encourage openness of opinion among students. I am an undeclared sophomore, and my interests are in sociology and women's studies. My goals for the student senate are to make it more accessible to the students, not just the student government. Additionally, I would like to work with the ASUO government to be more open to student input. My special interests for the student senate include promoting women's studies and advocating a stronger program for it at this school. Please vote for Amy Neitzel for Student Senate.

I have been a student at the University of Oregon for 3 years, and as a business major I feel that I am able to lend my skills to the University. I have a strong interest in becoming active in the operations of the University, and as a member of the Student Senate, I believe I can make a difference.

Carl Brody

My name is Carl Brody and I am interested in running for the student senate position representing the graduate schools and law school; currently I am a second year law student. I am originally from Chicago, Illinois, and I received my undergraduate degree from Howard University in Washington D.C. As a new member of the Oregon community I bring a fresh view of how student government is most effective. Also, I would like to reintroduce the University to the law school as a vocal representative for my classmates. My perception is that the law school has been separated from the general University, mentally and physically. It is my hope that I will be able to bridge this gap as a student representative for the law school, while bring forth a diverse view as we enact the important policies which the University will follow in the future.

Michael A. Frome

In my five years on campus, I've noticed that University politics suffers from a "groupthink" mentality that needs to be challenged on occasion. Decisions that affect all the students on this campus must not be reached without contemplation of the possible impact on the silent majority who could care less about campus politics. Proper decision making requires intelligent debate: not 18 senators voting as a block. My goal as a Student Senator is to ensure that I represent Graduate and Law students in a responsible, thoughtful manner that will not promote the narrow interests of certain groups of students, but also the entire University. As a Student Senator, I will be unyielding in my criticism of poorly thought out proposals before the University Senate and University Assembly. I will be a constant source of irritation to those who seek to make policy based solely on what is the right thing to do instead of the right and reasonable thing to do. I may agree with everything proposed on the Senate, but I refuse to accept anything without proper consideration of the effects on the University.
