

Suns finally finish Lakers in OT

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Call them cocky, call them lucky, call the Phoenix Suns escapees from the greatest upset in NBA playoff history.

The Suns, pushed by Charles Barkley's 31 points and 14 rebounds, slam-dunked the Los Angeles Lakers 112-104 in overtime Sunday to become the first team to rebound from two home losses to win a best-of-five series.

The Suns escaped as winners after scoring the first seven points of overtime as Barkley and center Oliver Miller grabbed every loose ball in sight.

Barkley's strong finish after a stuttering start would have meant nothing without Miller's monstrous overtime — nine points and five rebounds — after scoring only eight in regulation. Miller also blocked seven shots in the game.

The Suns, who meet San Antonio in the second round, made good on coach Paul Westphal's bold guarantee of victory after they lost the first two games at America West arena.

The Lakers, the only team in the playoffs with a losing record, had three chances to knock off the team with the league's best record and become the first No. 8 seed to beat a No. 1 seed.

Led by James Worthy's 24 points, the Lakers had a shot right down to the end of regulation, but Byron Scott's three-point attempt with the score tied 95-95 bounced off the rim.

Barkley and guard Kevin Johnson, who had 24 points and 13 assists, refused to let the Suns crash after a brilliant season and link up in NBA infamy with two other notable nosedives: the 1981 Lakers, who in defending their 1980 title lost in the first round to Houston; and the 1984 Philadelphia 76ers, who also went from defending champions to first-round losers against New Jersey.

Barkley hit his first shot, a three-pointer, as the Suns burst to a 9-2 start, then he hit only one of his next eight in the first half while Phoenix struggled to a 46-45 lead at halftime.

The Lakers, errorless in the first quarter and aided by seven Phoenix turnovers in the period, rode power forward Elden Campbell's nine points during a 13-2 streak to grab a 15-9 lead. But Phoenix made up for its sloppy passing by ruling the backboards, 14-7, and tied the game 24-24 with two seconds left on a pair of free throws by Barkley.

freshman Ray Livingston both chalked up double-wins for the Ducks, and freshmen LaMont Woods, DeWayne Ingram and Patrick Khoo earned valuable points in the sprints.

Howington won both the discus and shot put, setting a personal record of 173-8 in the shot. The throw qualifies him for the Pacific-10 Conference Championships May 21-22 in Berkeley, Calif.

Livingston also qualified for the Pac-10s with a PR of 24-5 1/2 in the long jump. Livingston won the pole vault at 16-0.

Woods and Ingram earned Oregon a 2-3 finish in the 100-meter sprint, and Woods' time of 10.7 should make him the fourth Duck Pac-10 qualifier in the event.

Senior Ronnie Harris returned to the team after missing the Pepsi Team Invitational to attend an NFL mini-camp. Harris easily won the 400 with a time of 47.79, well off of his season-best time of 46.68. Harris also ran a leg in Oregon's victorious 4x100-meter relay team. The Ducks' 4x400 relay was able to nip the Boise State team at the wire with a time of 3:14.24.

In the hurdles, Oregon's Grady O'Connor (400-meters) and Jamar Williams (110-meters) both won their events. Erik Ylitalo finished right behind O'Connor in the 400-meter race.
