Sergeant accepts discharge to better fight gay ban

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - A highly decorated soldier who publicly declared his homosexuality says he accepted an honorable discharge because it puts him in a better position to fight the military's ban on homosexuapproved separation proceedings for Sgt. Jose Zuniga, recommending he be honorably discharged.

All that remains for Zuniga to become a civilian is to clean out his locker, clear up his finances and close out his personnel records, said San Francisco Presidio spokesman Lt. Steven Fredericks.

The 24-year-old military journalist and Gulf War veteran who won the 6th Army's 1992 Soldier of the Year award violated the military's prohibition against homosexuals in announcing his sexual orientation. That ban is under review by the Clinton administration.

Presidio Battalion Commander Wayne Agness recommended an honorable discharge because of Zuniga's near spotless record, Fredericks said.

Zuniga said he was saddened by the finality of the moment and surprised that it happened so soon. He had not expected Agness to sign the papers for several more days.

"It's a sad day," he said. "It just goes to show how determined they are to get rid of the people who don't fit their morality standards."
