

POLICE BEAT

The following incidents were reported to the University Office of Public Safety and the Eugene police department May 23-31.

•Two University students were cited for minor in possession of alcohol on the 1800 block of University Street May 23. Police officers were breaking up a house party when the two students snuck in the back door of the house. Police had cleared most of the partygoers out of the house when the students made their way into the kitchen. The students were met by officers and cited after they told the officers they had been drinking at the party earlier that evening, according to police reports.

•A University student reported an assault on the 1300 block of Agate Street May 25. The student was walking out of a bathroom stall in her dorm when a man grabbed her around the throat and threatened to kill her. The man held her by the throat for about three minutes and said, "Don't move, or I'll kill you." The suspect then ran to the bathroom window and jumped onto the roof of the next building. The neighboring roof is about three feet below the victim's bathroom window. Police said they do not have a good description of the suspect because the victim was not wearing her glasses and did not get a good look at the suspect.

•Two University students were cited for harassment and obstructing governmental administration May 26. Police cited the pair after investigating a Eugene parking control officer's complaint. The officer said the two physically prevented her from putting a boot on a vehicle with outstanding parking tickets April 26. After being cited, one of the students said, "This is really going to f--- with my probation," according to police reports. The other student told police she could not believe she was being cited and said the parking officer "was out of her mind."

•The Kappa Sigma fraternity, 1090 Alder St., was cited for aggravated noise May 27. Police observed 25 to 30 people drinking, yelling and listening to loud folk music by a open fire outside of the fraternity, according to police reports. The ticket was for aggravated noise disturbance, with $750 bail, because the house has had two other noise citations in the past six months.

•The University College of Education, 1571 Alder St., reported the theft of $40 from a Kotex machine May 28. The suspect pried open a Kotex machine in an education building bathroom and emptied its cash box.

•A 38-year-old man was cited for disorderly conduct and resisting arrest on the 700 block of East 13th Avenue May 28. An EPD officer observed the suspect and another male aggressively panhandling money on the sidewalk. The officer said the pair yelled derogatory remarks about Asians as a group of Asian women walked past them. When the officer contacted the two men, one of them told the officer to "f--- off."

As the officer was checking the suspects identification, one of the men walked away. The officer caught up with the man and grabbed him by the arm. The man struggled and told the officer that he was going to kill the officer and said, "The next time I see you you will be dead." The officer took the suspect to the ground, sprayed him with pepper mace and handcuffed him. According to police reports, a crowd of 15 to 20 students gathered around the officer and were shouting that the officer was using excessive force.

•A Sigma Kappa sorority member reported a theft of some jewelry May 31. The student went to Portland for the weekend and returned to find $2,800 in jewelry missing from her closet.
