

Guide to Student Housing

Rental office helps students find housing

By Calley Anderson
Oregon Daily Emerald

Searching for a home while away from home and at your wits end with the process?

Don't lose hope. Brenda Wood in the Rental Information Office, Suite 5 EMU, is sure to be of help to all students in need of her services.

Wood is not only able to point lost students in the appropriate direction when exploring for apartments, houses and rooms to rent, but she is also very helpful in getting first-time renters through the business logistics.

There are two bulletin boards and a computerized VAX system that can be accessed via UOnet from a 300-Baud modem anywhere in the world, all of which locate renting possibilities throughout Eugene. The bulletin boards are updated daily and are located on the bottom floor of the EMU in front of the Craft Center.

"I give an equal opportunity to anyone at UO, international students and faculty alike, to list through our office," Wood said. "Students can list