

CROATIA

VISITED

By Shin Yasui
For the Oregon Daily Emerald

Mostly looked around fortunate camps in terms of materialistic concerns except TCCS and Stobric. In some camps, there were leaders of refugees, and they tried to make refugees feel comfortable in an alien environment. Croatian volunteers and social workers such as Suncokret have been working for refugees with those leaders and even without them. Many international volunteers and humanitarian workers came to help refugees even in dangerous places so they would not feel isolated. This is a humanitarian intervention by people, based upon conscience and morality for people who thought those values were already torn apart.
