

Transfer Students
 Get to Know Us —
 Before you Need Us.
 Your Student Health Center
 x4441

"We Came Down From The Mountains to Continue to Fight..."
 —Gerson Martinez, FMLN-FPL

The war in El Salvador is over, but the struggle continues. Get involved. UO/UES Sister University Project.

- General interest meeting: Tuesday, Oct. 5, 5:30 p.m., Ben Linder Room EMU
- Slide presentation/discussion
- All interested students welcome, regardless of knowledge or background in Central America issues

SHADES

"REFLECTION IS OUR BUSINESS"

OAKLEY

Revo VUARNET.

bolle

GARGOYLES PERFORMANCE EYEWEAR

Ray-Ban

SERENGETI

SPECIALTY CLOTHING, HATS & BAGS

ONE OF THE LARGEST SELECTIONS IN THE NORTHWEST

ACROSS FROM SOCKEYE'S

524 VALLEY RIVER CENTER 345-9437

PAC-10 WEEKLY PICKS

Oregon Daily Emerald

Oregon +12 at California	Oregon	Oregon	Oregon	Oregon	Oregon	Oregon
Arizona St. -17 1/2 at Oregon St.	Oregon St.	Oregon St.	Oregon St.	Arizona St.	Oregon St.	Oregon St.
Notre Dame -8 at Stanford	Stanford	Stanford	Notre Dame	Stanford	Notre Dame	Notre Dame
USC +2 1/2 at Arizona	Arizona	Arizona	Arizona	Arizona	Arizona	Arizona
San Jose St. +30 at Washington	San Jose St.	Washington	San Jose St.	Washington	San Jose St.	Washington
Washington St. -17 at Pacific	Washington St.	Washington St.	Washington St.	Washington St.	Washington St.	Washington St.

Barr leads resurgent California

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A little job security has meant a lot to Dave Barr, whose play at quarterback has helped 17th-ranked California get out to a 4-0 start.

"Last year, I was out there just trying to win a job," Barr said. "This year, I'm out there trying to win games."

On the way, Barr has quietly become one of the nation's top passers.

The junior from nearby Concord enters Saturday's game against Oregon (3-0) ranked fourth in the country in passing efficiency.

Barr's completing passes at a 66 percent clip. He's also averaging nearly a first down for every completion (9.33 yards), has an exceptional ratio of nine touchdown passes to two interceptions and has shown a knack for scrambling out of trouble when the need arises.

In four games, he's been sacked just four times.

"The thing that really helps us out is his pocket composure," Cal offensive tackle Todd Steussie said. "He makes good use of the time he has back there. He gets back there, gets settled, finds the receivers and gets the ball off quick. And every now and then, he breaks contain just to kind of keep the rushers honest."

Barr, involved in a tense competition for the job with Perry Klein in 1992, was named the undisputed starter in the spring by coach Keith Gilbertson, who wanted to avoid the kind of controversy that divided the team last year.

"He knows he's the guy and he's grown with the position," Gilbertson said. "He understands the system. He's improved himself physically so that he's able to create play not only from inside the pocket but also getting outside. He's thrown a lot of good completions just by moving around. He does a lot of real positive things."

It wasn't always that way.

Barr and Klein alternated initially before Klein left the team less than a month into last season in a dispute over playing time, making Barr the starter by default.

Though Barr threw for more yards (2,343) than any sophomore in Cal history in 1992, he also had nearly as many interceptions (15) as touchdowns (19). And after a 3-1 start in 1992, Cal took a nose-dive, losing six of its last seven to wind up at 4-7.

"He was young last year, he didn't have any experience and our offensive line wasn't doing as well as it is this year," Steussie said. "Getting hit as much as he did last year really got him kind of frazzled and really made for bad things all around. We had decent output, but it wasn't anything we could really be proud of."

CAL

Continued from Page 19

his last 25 field goal attempts, including all seven this season.

Oregon's biggest problem Saturday could be nagging injuries which have hit hardest at running back and tight end. All three of Oregon's tailbacks practiced early in the week, but the availability of Sean Burwell (ankle), Ricky Whittle (groin) and Dino Philyaw (hip) is still in question.

Starting tight end Willy Tate recovered well enough from a shoulder injury to play last week but is now suffering from a bruise between his hip and ribs. Brooks said backup Josh Wilcox's ankle injury is better, but he is still not 100 percent.

Center Heath Howington and Jeff Sherman were injured against Illinois last week.

Their status is doubtful, as are wide receiver Kory Murphy, cornerback Eugene Jackson and center Tim DeGroot.

Cooking With A Social Conscience
 Nurturing your health while supporting the earth.

- Jan's Salsa
- Marinara Sauce
- 3 Bean, Black Bean & Chili Dip

All made with organically grown tomatoes & beans.

1% sales for Ecology & Hunger Projects

AVAILABLE IN THE EMU

Gay, Lesbian and Bisexual
Faculty and Staff of the University of Oregon

Informal Brown Bag Lunch

First Friday of the Month
 Oct. 1, Nov. 5, Dec. 3

EMU International Lounge
 Noon - 1:30 pm

For more information contact
 Jackie Balzer
 Coordinator of Educational and Support Services
 346-1142