

but it's easier said than done when the entire economy of the Feee world is collapsing like the proverbial house of cards and all the good jobs are being snapped-up by guys who think a is something you'd get at a bank if you had money. And then when you do find a job you like, the pay is only enough to buy generic peanut butter and jelly. But still, you can get a CD free just for buying avia crosstrainers from foot locker. Think of it: you can get your choice of free tunes from Musicland or Sam Goody just for getting cool shoes. So hurry. Don't let some dork who thinks U2 is a tax form get in on this deal.
