

HOW TO CONDUCT AN ACADEMIC JOB SEARCH

Free workshop for graduate students seeking academic employment. Find out about:

- The Academic Job Market and Job Search Strategies
- Soliciting Reference Letters
- Career Planning and Placement Resources

With Beth Swank, U of O Career Counselor

WHEN: WEDNESDAY, OCT 20, 12:00 - 1:00 PM
WHERE: EMU - CEDAR ROOM A

"31 years of Quality Service"

Mercedes • BMW • Volkswagen
Audi • Datsun • Toyota

GERMAN
AUTO
SERVICE, INC.

342-2912 2025 Franklin Blvd. Eugene, Oregon, 97402

Macintosh Rentals and Services

A computer lounge alternative.

Hourly rentals of color Macs in comfortable setting. Reservations, competitive rates and free coffee. Compact Macs delivered to you. Troubleshooting & training.
15% discount to students. $15.00 Mac tune-up special.
683-8945

The Sales Tax and Higher Ed

An informational forum about
Measure 1 and the effects on UO

Featuring:

Jim Scherzinger

Legislative Revenue Officer

John Moseley

UO Vice President for Research

Eric Bowen

ASUO President

Moderated by:

Lorraine Davis

UO Vice Provost for Academic Affairs

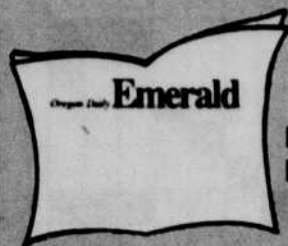

Monday, October 18

6:30-8:00 p.m.

100 Willamette Hall

Find out what all the talk is about

Presented by UO Legislative and Community Relations

Pass it on. (please)

Help our successful recycling program on campus by putting the Oregon Daily Emerald back in its original rack when you've finished reading it. This will allow another person to read it and/or be easily picked up for recycling.

Duck women, Pilots win at Drenth

By Dave Charbonneau
Oregon Daily Emerald

The Oregon women's cross country outclassed a strong field, and the men were outclassed by a tough Portland team Saturday in the Jeff Drenth Memorial at Alton Baker Park.

However, both teams had their most complete team outings of the season as they ran their final meets before the Pacific-10 Conference Championships in two weeks. Both the men and the women had all five scorers in the top 25, with runners stepping up to strongly fill the important fourth and fifth scoring positions.

The women put together their best team performance of the season, placing all five scorers in the top 20 to win the meet by nearly 40 points over second-place Nebraska.

The men also had a strong team performance, as their five scorers finished within 20 seconds of each other. But the Ducks finished second, 33 points behind Portland, who had five runners in the top 15.

Freshman Milena Glusac continued to establish herself as the big gun for the Ducks on the women's side. Glusac finished third behind Wake Forest's Nicole Stevenson and Sarah Howell of Valley Royals.

Howell won the race with a time of 17:17.5, 10 seconds ahead of Stevenson and 18 seconds ahead of Glusac.

At the two-mile mark, the three were well ahead of the rest of the field, when Stevenson and Howell broke away from Glusac.

"I'm not too happy with my race today," Glusac said. "When they started to break away from me, I wasn't feeling very good and I just lost my concentration."

Although the Ducks, who came into the meet ranked seventh in the nation, failed to have the top finisher, they made up for it with a well-balanced team effort that catapulted Oregon over top 20 opponents Nebraska and Wake Forest.

Jenna Carlson ran strong and took eighth, three seconds ahead of teammate Melody Fairchild, who ran her best race since returning to the Oregon roster.

Niamh Zwagerman missed cracking the top 10 by two seconds and finished 11th. Joni Wareham took 20th for the Ducks, getting good points as the fifth scorer, something the team has been lacking in recent races.

JEFF PASLAY/Oregon Daily Emerald

Freshman Milena Glusac led the Duck cross country team to a victory at Saturday's Jeff Drenth Memorial at Alton Baker Park.

Other Oregon finishers were Jill Callero at 54th, Christine Engesser at 55th, Jen Doyle at 71st, Vicky Fleschner at 78th, Laura Poole at 84th and Shannon Elliot at 89th.

The Ducks finished with 28 points, Nebraska was second with 67, and Wake Forest finished third with 85. The only other Pacific-10 Conference team, Washington, entered its "B Team" and came in a distant seventh with 155.

In the men's race, the Ducks watched the ninth-ranked Pilots dominate the day. Portland's Peter Julian was the top collegian and three other Pilot runners finished in the top seven among college runners, as Portland won the meet with 21 points. Oregon was second with 54.

Only nine places separated the five Duck scorers; the only problem was the top Oregon finisher was Rick Cantwell at No. 15. Cantwell and teammates Tracy Hollister and Karl Keska came in right behind each other, seven seconds apart.

Oregon managed to pick up second thanks to strong performances by its fourth and fifth scorers, John Dimoff (21st) and Jason Humble (24th).

The Ducks finished 15 points ahead of Wake Forest.

The men's race was won by Nike's Dan Nelson, who broke the 24-minute mark by three seconds. He was followed by Danny Lopez and Shannon Butler before the first collegian crossed the finish line.

Saturday's meet was the final tune-up for the cross country teams before the Pac-10 Championships Oct. 30 in Palo Alto. The District VIII Championships will be Nov. 13 in Washington, and the NCAA Championships are Nov. 23 in Pennsylvania.

Free Weight Management Workshop

Learn about:

- ♦ why diets don't work
- ♦ nutrition
- ♦ exercise
- ♦ self esteem/body image
- ♦ making positive choices for a healthier life

when: Wednesdays Oct. 20, 29 & Nov. 3, 10, 17.

3:30-5:00 p.m. in the Student Health Center Medical Library.

UO Student Health Center
Health Education Program

To register, or for more information, call 346-4456