HUSKIES

ning back Napoleon Kaufman, who currently ranks 12th in the country with 109 yards rushing per game.

Oregon's offense will need to play at the level it has been at all year to have success against the tough Husky defense. Washington will be without its starting linebacker and second-leading tackler, Andy Mason, who suffered a knee injury against UCLA. However, the defense has been a force this year, led by lineman D'Marco Farr, who is having his best year.

"This is the best defense we've faced this year," Brooks said.

The Huskies are currently riding a 16-game home winning streak that dates back to 1991. Oregon has not won at Husky Stadium since a 34-10 win in 1980.
