using the space, but they should have more respect for us."

Another Ganoë resident slid a note through the door that said, "Please be quiet. We are studying for our finals. Thank you." After a burst of laughter, the note was sent back through the door, and the noise continued.

"We don't do work at the basketball courts; they should respect our space," freshman Ryan Moeckaly said.

John Raymond, Ganoë's resident assistant, took up the issue with Bean Resident Director Linda Maizel.

"University Housing should offer an environment that is more conducive to academic study," Raymond said.

Maizel agreed.

"We have gotten a commitment that catering will no longer use Ganoë lounge," Maizel said. "They will switch to the Henderson back lounge after their next road trip."

The next road trip is Dec. 12; therefore, the nightly dinners will continue in Ganoë lounge through Finals Week.

After the road trip, however, the team will be moving to the Henderson back lounge. Maizel said the lounge is almost never used by Henderson residents and she hopes that the use of the lounge will not cause any major problems.

"We want to make sure that all small lounges are available for student use," Maizel said.

The halls with small lounges are Ganoë, DeBusk, Parsons and Thornton.

The switching of lounges could cause a few problems. Vanderpool said the custodians will have more cleaning to do because the Henderson back lounge is carpeted. Also, Ganoë is connected to the catering area, meaning the necessary equipment is readily available.

"The equipment can't just be moved out," Vanderpool said. However, she believes catering will be able to manage fairly well.

Ganoë residents are happy that the team will be eating in a different lounge.

"Now, I just always study in my room. When they leave, I will be able to study in the lounge again," one Ganoë resident said.

Ronnie Thompson, assistant coach of the men's basketball team, was contacted for this story. He did not respond to phone messages left for him.
