Unlimited LTD bus service

is an optional student fee. That means refunds are available.

Keep in mind, however, that your student ID now enables you to ride the bus any time, anywhere, all term!

Also remember that by supporting unlimited bus service you're helping alleviate traffic, reduce air-pollution, ease the campus parking problem, and provide transportation for thousands of students.

But if you still want a refund, come to the EMU Main Desk during normal business hours January 3 - 7. Also available at the LTD Customer Service Center during normal business hours January 8 - 12.

Call 687-5555 (Voice) or 687-5552 (TDD) for more information.

STUDENT OPPORTUNITIES

• A new scholarship program has been established for Oregon business students.

Five $2,000 scholarships are available for college juniors and seniors who are Oregon residents and business majors at four-year colleges in the state. Applicants must have at least a 3.5 GPA and will be selected on the basis of need, academic achievement and the quality of their business plan, which must be submitted with the application.

The application deadline is Mar. 15. To obtain an application, send a request in writing with a 52-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to: The State Scholarship Commission, 1500 Valley River Drive, Suite 100, Eugene, OR 97401.

• The Indiana University Center on Philanthropy is seeking student applicants for its Jane Addams Fellowship in Philanthropy program, which awards each fellow $15,000 for the year and 12 credits toward a graduate degree.

The community service program encourages aspiring young leaders to work for the common good while studying and investigating the roles of philanthropy. In addition to guided study, students will select an internship with a non-profit organization in Indianapolis.

Qualified candidates must be seniors or recent graduates with a bachelor's degree and must show demonstrated leadership potential and a special interest in some aspect of community service. Application deadline is Feb. 15, 1994. For a brochure and application, contact the Indiana University Center on Philanthropy, 550 West North St., Suite 301, Indianapolis, IN 46202-3162, or call (317) 274-4200.

• A faculty and graduate seminar titled "Economics as Literature: A Feminist Perspective" will be taught this term by visiting scholar and noted feminist economist Susan Feiner.

The seminar, which is worth one graduate credit, discusses why economics has been largely untouched by feminist criticism, post-modernism and issues of multiculturalism.

The class will begin with a mandatory lecture from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. Jan. 11 in Gerlinger Lounge, and four seminar sessions will follow on Jan. 19, 26 and Feb. 16 and 23, all in Room 330 Hendricks from 3:30 to 5 p.m. The Duck Call CRN is 21558. For more information, contact the Center for the Study of Women in Society at 346-5015.

• A panel discussion titled "Health Care Reform and Its Impact on Small Business" will be Friday from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. in Room 128 Chiles. Panelists include Ken Singer, former chief of staff of Sacred Heart General Hospital, and Skip Kriz, vice president of Sacred Heart Select-Care and a representative of the Oregon Health Plan. The discussion and reception are free, but people who plan to attend are encouraged to call the College of Business Administration at 346-3420 to RSVP by Wednesday.

man Mark Ashton and sophomore Eric Gorr, finished 12th overall.

The students practiced every week for two months to prepare for the five-hour competition. Each team received nine computer programming problems and was asked to solve as many of them as possible within the time limit.

University students finished eighth nationally in the programming contest in 1989, sixth nationally in 1991 and fifth regionally in 1992.

• The University and Lane Transit District shared the Governor's Energy Award as a result of the University/LTD program that provides employee bus passes paid from parking funds. The project, which has saved thousands of dollars in commuting costs and has reduced air pollution and fuel consumption, will represent Oregon in the National Energy Awards program.
