things reverse."

Oregon pulled away midway through the first half with an 9-0 run to take a 35-18 lead with 6:45 left in the first half. The Ducks lead got as big as 23 points in the first half before they went cold, failing to get a field goal in the final 3:51 of the half to lead only 46-31 at half-time.

Alaska Fairbanks never got closer than 15 points in the second half, and the final score was Oregon's biggest lead.

Five Ducks scored in double figures, led by freshmen Henry Madden and Kenya Wilkins with 17 points each. Wilkins added six assists and four steals, and hit on six of seven shots, including a trio of three-pointers.

Orlando Williams had 14 points, despite playing only 18 minutes, while Damon Runyon had 13. Oregon finished the game shooting 47.5 percent from the field, but that would have been even better if not for the final minutes of the first half when the Ducks missed their last seven shots.

Dalon Bynum and Mike Hajdukovich scored 14 points apiece to lead Alaska Fairbanks.

"What do we get out of a game like this?" Green asked. "One, we get a win and two, we get a chance to see some young kids try to develop and coordinate offensively. I thought I saw both collectively and individually."

score 28-20 Oregon, Oregon head coach Jody Runge opted to go to her reserves.

"We tried to play a lot of people in the first half... in the Pac-10, we may get into foul trouble, and we're trying to not be totally untested when they (reserves) have to go in there," Runge said.

Forward Arianne Boyer provided a spark off the bench, scoring six points in a row for Oregon and giving the Ducks a 36-24 lead. However, UTEP countered with an 8-1 run to end the half, cutting Oregon's lead to 37-32.

In the second half, the Duck post players took charge. Oregon looked tentative on offense in the opening minutes of the second half, dropping into a tie with the Miners before Sporcich caught fire. She scored 19 points in the second half and a game-high 23.

Runge said Oregon didn't cause its 15-0 run with any changes in strategy.

"We took a timeout and just said 'Settle down and get a good shot. Come down and rebound and stick a fork in the ball. We were shooting ourselves in the foot,'" she said.

Down the stretch, the Ducks took care of the ball and made their free throws to preserve their lead. In the second half, Oregon was 22 of 29 from the line and committed only six turnovers.

Schutt, who finished with 21 points, said while UTEP wasn't Oregon's toughest opponent this preseason, "we played more as a team. Fundamentally, we were pretty solid."
