ENTERTAINMENT UPDATE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — It's like stepping into the pages of TV Guide.

Meet the cast of Seinfeld! Watch as veteran quizmaster Wink Martindale introduces his new quiz show! Chat with Susan Powter! Joan Rivers! David Hasselhoff!

But this is no Fantasy Island for the star-struck — this is the convention of the National Association of Television Program Executives, a three-day video bazaar in which the people who make the shows sell them to the people who put them on your local TV stations.

"It's kind of a Toys R Us for programming," Brandon Tartikoff said. "You walk down the aisles and instead of seeing games and dolls, you see shows."

Back when he was programming chief at NBC, Tartikoff came to sightsee. Now, as an independent producer, he's pushing Last Call. It's billed as a late-night, half-hour, interview-talk show with the pace of a music video.

Will Last Call find its way to your screen during the 1994-95 season? It's likely that decision will be made here, at the Miami Beach Convention Center, as more than 10,000 convention-goers mill about looking for that perfect lead-in to Wheel of Fortune.

"They're kicking the tires," said Robert Turner, president of Multimedia Entertainment, which produces such successful shows as Sally Jessy Raphael and Rush Limbaugh, and will introduce the new Susan Powter Show.

"Each program executive has only so many slots to fill next season," Turner said. "He's here to look at the new properties to see how they might fit into his schedule."

As Turner spoke, his eyes darted about the lavish Multimedia booth to make sure every prospect who stepped up was greeted by a salesman.

Next fall, when some of these series get on the air, it will be the viewers' turn to buy.

sergeant who marries Le Ly and spirits her away to a life in the Southern California suburbs.

Jones' part is more forceful (as usual) and effectively allows his flashy acting style to take command. In parts, the film becomes somewhat choppy, and Le Ly's sometimes sappy narration seems particularly misplaced. Yet Stone uses the more dramatic and distressing points in Le Ly's life to his distinct advantage, and the audience feels it.

Oftentimes critics find Stone's work to be overtly paranoid as well as severely propagandized, however in Heaven and Earth, he deserves credit for telling a side of the Vietnam story that few dare to approach.
