

EXCLUSIVELY
Adult
VIDEOS • TOYS • GIFTS
LINGERIE
It doesn't have to be dirty to be good...

RAINCOATS
Lots of Styles,
Colors & Sizes
Have a Safe Spring!

726-6969
1166 South A Street
SPRINGFIELD

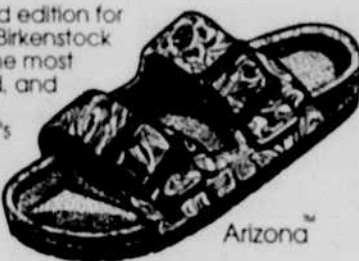

OPEN 24 HOURS
Locally owned and operated for over ten years.

LIMITED EDITION
impressions
BY BIRKENSTOCK

Introducing the new limited edition for Spring. If you're already a Birkenstock fan, you know these are the most comfortable shoes around, and if you've never tried Birkenstock footwear, now's the time to get the right impression!

The classic Arizona with embossed nubuck in rich colors. While supplies last.

Birkenstock
The Original Comfort Shoe™

Footwise
THE BIRKENSTOCK STORE
5th Street Public Market • Eugene • 342-6107

STUDENT ADVISORS WANTED

Need 5-9 committed and creative student volunteers to advise the Student Health Center regarding programs, services, finances and health insurance for next Fall.

These students will spend an average of 1-2 hours per week as members of the evolving Student Health Advisory Committee (SHAC) helping to guide the Student Health Center in promoting a healthy campus through the storm of health care reform.

Successful participants will gain an in-depth understanding of health care delivery and its financing, will learn about health issues of students, and will develop interpersonal skills and confidence.

Routine meetings are scheduled at 3 p.m. Fridays, so members can plan their class schedules accordingly.

Applications can be picked up at the Student Health Center front desk or outside the ASUO office.

Applications should be submitted to the ASUO office by Friday, May 19, 1994.

 For any questions, please call 346-4447.

GREEKS

Continued from Page 1A

entation into their houses, he said.

"We have gay and lesbian members in our houses," he said. "Too many times, they tell me they've been ostracized from their houses for being gay. If you turn your back on a brother because his uncle is gay, that is immoral and shame on you."

Keim was very harsh toward homophobic fraternity members. "What is it about you heterosexual men?" he asked. "What compels you to write, 'Kill fags!' on bathroom walls and doors? Quit being openly hostile! When I have my pants down in a bathroom, the last thing I'm thinking about are gays," he said.

As for the problem of alcohol and drug abuse in the greek system, Keim got down on his knees during the lecture to beg fraternity and sorority members to look out for their friends.

"I'm not asking you to practice prohibition," he said. "I'm asking you to practice low- or no-risk drinking. How can we call ourselves brothers when we allow a brother to die because we let him go drive drunk?"

Keim got down on his knees again to implore fraternity and sorority members to practice safe sex if they choose to have intercourse. To stress this point, Keim asked the entire audience to repeat after him, "It's OK not to have sex."

"If you choose to be sexual, there are three things you have to remember: Use a condom, use a condom, use a condom," he said.

Along with practicing safe sex, Keim urged fraternity members to treat women like their sisters or future wives.

OMEGA

Continued from Page 1A

you in hopes that you'll learn from them."

The fraternity members focused their attention on how to avoid the gangs through teamwork. They told the children how react to a gang if they're ever approached. They suggested not acting hostile or upset and finding the easiest way out of a situation, even if it means agreeing for the moment and later telling a parent or guardian that a gang approached them.

The fraternity asked the children to discourage students who may be interested in gangs. The children heard about positive alternatives to gangs such as Boy Scouts, boys' clubs and after-school sports.

The children seemed to enjoy spending time with Omega Psi Phi.

"I like them because they teach us about things so that when we grow up we won't do them, no drugs and no gangs," said Angelo Johnson, a fifth grader at the elementary school. "We want to do teamwork things like basketball, baseball and football because they're cool and gangs aren't."

LoLo Reyes, a fourth grader, said, "It's cool that they come and

"You wouldn't want them passed around or drunk," he said. Keim also asked sorority women to demand more respect from their boyfriends.

But the two most important steps greeks could take to improve their image on campus would be to study harder and to serve the community more. Keim implied that studying harder may actually help the fraternities and sororities become more multicultural.

"Go to the library between classes," he said. "That way, you won't see anybody you know. Do your homework. It's also a great chance to meet the international students at the University," he said.

Keim encouraged University greeks to continue their work for the community. Last year, greek organizations nationwide raised more than $40 million, Keim said.

"During halftime of the Oregon State-Oregon game, it was so great to see the fraternity men and sorority women together presenting a check for $30,000 to Sacred Heart Hospital. Nobody does more (for the community) than the greeks," he said.

Keim said that if fraternities and sororities could take steps to get rid of stereotypes that surround them, then greeks wouldn't be ashamed of wearing their letters anymore. He said that greeks across the country sometimes are afraid of being ridiculed.

"If we're peeing off balconies, date raping and earning below average grades, then we should be ashamed," he said. "We run into a problem when we say one thing and do another. This is reality: We have to clean up our houses, then turn around and clean up our communities."

teach us not to take drugs and join gangs. It's a lot of fun, too, because we play a lot of sports like basketball with them."

The fraternity members said they get a sense of giving from volunteering their time.

"It's good to know that we're giving something back to kids who are in the same situation. We hope that we can make a real influence and motivate them to stay on the right track," said Craig Sims, chapter president. "It's community service that is mandated by the national fraternity. It's a part of upholding our fraternity principles."

ET ALS

MEETINGS

Pacifica Forum will meet today to discuss "Non-violence among Methodists at Santa Cruz" with attendants of a March conference of Methodists from 11:45 a.m. to 1:15 p.m. at the Wesley Center, 1236 Kincaid St. For more information, call 346-4694.

Race Task Force will meet this morning at 8:45 a.m. in Room 360 Oregon Hall. For more information, call 346-1133.

Shabbat services will be tonight at 6:30 at 1414 Kincaid St. Oneg Shabbat will follow at 7:30. For more information, call 343-8920.

RELIGION

Wesley Foundation spring work day will be Saturday from 7:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the United Methodist Campus Ministry. The day will offer a chance to beautify the campus ministry building with painting, gardening and general work. For more information, call 346-4694.

Campus Interfaith Ministry will present a program titled "Faith Speaks to Violence: Religious Discourse in Public Life" on Sunday at 4 p.m. at the Wesley Center, 1236 Kincaid St. For more information, call 484-1707.

MISCELLANEOUS

International Peer Assistants will present "International Student and U.S. Student Dialogue Workshop" today from 3:30 to 5 p.m. in the EMU Fir Room. For more information, call 346-1238.

YWCA will present "Racial Justice Training Workshop" on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the EMU Dining Room. For more information, call 346-4439.

Career Planning and Placement will sign up successful bidders today through Monday in Room 244 Hendricks for interviews with Russ Bernie, U.S. Peace Corps, The Equitable and the Great Pacific Trading Co.

Deadline for submitting Et Als to the Emerald front desk, Suite 300 EMU, is noon the day before publication. Et Als run the day of the event unless the event takes place before noon and is requested to be published earlier.

Notices of events with a donation or admission charge will not be accepted. Campus events and those scheduled nearest the publication date will be given priority. The Emerald reserves the right to edit for grammar and style.

Et Als run strictly on a space-available basis.

Atkinson has better ideas for Higher Education!

OUR FUTURE DEPENDS ON IT!

Tom Atkinson feels that half of the Lottery dollars should be used for job skills training through higher education.

For State Senator
ATKINSON
OUR DEMOCRATIC CHOICE

Authorized and paid for by Tom Atkinson For Our State Senator Committee, 2677 Wilkenzie, Suite 3, Eugene, Oregon 97401

WORLDWIDE NEED

For plasma increases everyday. Come & help J-Mar Biologicals Plasma Donor Center meet the world need with a plasma donation. Earn $20 on your first donation.

Open Tues. thru Sat.
Call 683-9430.
1901 W. 8th Ave.