troupe arrives in town July 22. More comedy returns with Firesign Theater on July 27. August's concerts include island music.

Tish Hinojosa, who sings in both English and Spanish, is performing on August 10. Most of her music has a social consciousness running through the songs, which blend traditional elements and contemporary settings. She will be performing with Alejandro Escovedo. Tickets start at $8.

On August 14, Motown musicians The Temptations will play with Tower of Power. Organizers expect a large audience.

Oregon's Festival of American Music, a local festival, finishes the summer concert series. Under conductor Marin Alsop's direction, the concert includes "New York Airwaves," a re-creation of the 1930's Paul Whiteman radio show. The program also features guest pianist Leslie Stifelman and an original version of Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue.

Tickets for the shows, which run from June 22 to August 27, can be purchased at the Hult Center Box Office and the EMU Main Desk, or by credit card at 687-5000. Fred Meyer Fastix outlets sell tickets for all Cuthbert events except The Temptations and Oregon's Festival of American Music.

Ticket prices vary depending on the artists. The tickets for the opening show, Beausoleil, are $8 in advance and $12.50 the day of the show. Children over the age of one must have a ticket and because the events are held outdoors, there are no additional discounted ticket prices.

LAW

tial causes of violence, but also introduce forums that focus on solutions, such as community policing and non-violent political activism.

Garrett Epps, a University assistant professor of law, will present a class on alternatives to violence, relying on the teachings of Gandhi and Martin Luther King.

"It's a great revelation to some people to learn that Gandhi wanted to actively resist violence without resorting to violence," he said.

"To what extent can we apply those strategies today? We shouldn't be neutral, but should embrace those non-violent principles," said Epps.

The course will also be offered evenings in Portland at the Portland State University Business School.

Violence and the Law begins June 21 with an introduction to violence in the 1990s. For more information, call 346-3835.
