Joe Paterno takes a ride after a 27-23 Sugar Bowl win over Georgia in 1983. Penn State went on to be the undisputed National Champion in 1982 and also 1986.

PATERNO

Football Hall of Fame presented Paterno its "Distinguished American Award." He is the only active college football coach ever to receive the prize.

His zeal for bettering his university is further demonstrated by his responsibility as chair of a committee that has been raising funds for an addition to the school's Pattee Library. Paterno strengthened his commitment to the project with a personal pledge of $250,000.

"The purpose of college football is to serve education, not the other way around," Paterno said in the 1994 Penn State media guide.

After 40 years of coaching, Paterno shows no sign of slowing down. When talk of retirement surfaces, Paterno shows little interest in shutting things down.

"I thoroughly enjoy coaching," Paterno said. "As long as I stay healthy and my enthusiasm for the game continues, I am probably going to coach."
