

The Ducks had to scrap, slam and knock heads all season long to make it to the Rose Bowl.

(All you have to do is sign up for free checking.)

Not that there's anything wrong with doing it the hard way. Builds character. But when you sign up for Washington Mutual's Free Checking Account, featuring no minimum balance and no monthly fees, you'll have a shot at winning two free tickets to watch the Ducks battle Penn State at the '95 Rose Bowl. We'll even throw in airfare and accommodations.* Of course, this way you might not make the highlight films. But then again, considering the enthusiasm of Ducks fans, maybe you will. That's different. That's Washington Mutual.
