Oregon's Kenya Wilkins led the Ducks to the Far West Classic Championship and scored 46 points in earning Pac-10 player of the week.

Wilkins snags award for Far West efforts

Kris Henry
Oregon Daily Emerald

Oregon sophomore point guard Kenya Wilkins was named the Pacific-10 Conference/Right Guard Pure Power Men's Basketball Player of the Week for Dec. 26 to Jan. 1, Commissioner Tom Hansen announced Wednesday.

This is the first career Player of the Week honor for the 5-foot-10 native of Los Angeles, Calif. Wilkins totaled 46 points, 19 assists, 12 rebounds and six steals in a 3-0 week for the 8-1 Ducks last week.

He led Oregon to its first title in the annual Far West Classic in Portland since 1974 with 17 points, six assists, five rebounds and a couple of steals in the championship game against Notre Dame, a 73-69 victory.

And in a 102-97 double overtime win against visiting Montana, Wilkins scored 22 points to go with seven assists.

Wilkins is currently averaging 11.9 points and his assists average of 5.8 ties him for sixth in the Pac-10.

He joins UCLA's Ed O'Bannon, a two-time honoree this season, and Oregon State's Brent Barry as a recipient of the 1994-95 Pac-10 Player of the Week honor.
