A Reading & Booksigning with Poet Robert Wrigley

Thursday, Jan 26th at 7:30 p.m.
In the Gumwood Room, EMU

Northwest poet Robert Wrigley will read from his poetry and sign copies of his works, including his newly released book of poetry, In the Bank of Beautiful Sins.

Considered to be one of this country's finest poets, Wrigley's latest book is his most passionate and original to date, exploring the boundaries of our existence, where we are at once more and less than human: animal and angel, predator and prey, sinner & saint.

His latest book along with Glow and What My Father Believed are available upstairs at the bookstore and will be for sale at the event.

"With this book of poems, Robert Wrigley takes his place as one of this country's finest poets. In the Bank of Beautiful Sins reminds us of our lives as we have forgotten them. Wrigley speaks to us as very few poets have done."
