ANDREA J. WRIGHT for the Emerald

Besides pumping iron, swimming, racquetball, martial arts and basketball courts are available in the Esslinger building.

DUCK NOTES

Seniors Jeff Potter and Orlando Williams have been named men's basketball team captains for the remainder of the season, announced Oregon head coach Jerry Green on Tuesday.

"Orlando has shown his leadership as a team member with his actions both on and off the court," Green said. "Jeff is a hard worker, who comes ready to play everyday in practice and games. I want to do this at this time because I feel it is in the best interest of our team."

Competing in only its second event of the season, the Oregon snowboarding team ran amuck through the Oregon hillside.

Over the weekend, the United States Ski Association sanctioned a two-day giant slalom competition at Willamette Pass. Oregon sent six team members to tackle the rain-soaked slopes north of Eugene.

POTTER

WILLIAMS

Oregon's Marci Ebeling, competing in her first race, battled through the rainy conditions on Saturday to take first place in the Recreational Senior Women's giant slalom.

The team competed in all three events — the slalom, giant slalom and half pipe — but failed, with the exception of Ebeling, to reach the podium.

"We had a strong showing considering it was only our second race," team captain Aaron Guzman said. "We might have done better if the weather was nicer."

I expect us to be right up near the front the remainder of the year."

The team's next event will be at Mt. Hood Meadows this weekend.

The Oregon Club Sports women's volleyball team traveled north to Forest Grove last weekend to take part in a tournament at Pacific University. The team had one win in eight tries and returned to Eugene more determined than ever.

"This was an experimental tourney," team member Donna Goode said. "We didn't expect to win it; we just wanted to see what we had."

"We certainly didn't play as well as we could have, but we are looking forward to more tournaments."

The team's next tournament will be on Feb. 5 in Albany. Oregon will host a tournament at home on Feb. 11.
