Arizona State nervous about NCAA bid

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — No. 15 Arizona State is close to its second NCAA tournament berth in Bill Frieder's six years with the school, and Frieder is getting the jitters.

He said Tuesday it was the first time he's been nervous near the end of the season.

"We have to continue playing the way we've been playing, keep our edge and don't let anything disastrous happen to us on the road," said Frieder, whose squad starts March with a road trip to Washington state and then finishes at Arizona.

Before that, though, Arizona State (19-6) plays Oregon and Oregon State at home this week. The Sun Devils, 9-4 in the conference, made the NCAA field in 1991 and beat Rutgers to advance to the second round, where Arkansas ousted them.

Frieder said he's looking for reliable third and fourth players off the bench such as forward Joe Zaletel and guard Courtney Hargrays.

If Arizona State beats Oregon (15-6, 7-5) on Thursday, the Sun Devils will record their second 20-win season in four years.

Counselors and advisers from Oregon Community Colleges will be visiting campus February 22, 1995. Please take a few moments to stop by and talk with them about your UO experience.
