Hatfield offers resignation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Sen. Mark Hatfield, whose solitary defiance of his own party helped bring down the balanced budget amendment last week, offered to resign before the vote, Majority Leader Bob Dole said Sunday.

Dole, R-Kan., speaking on CBS' Face the Nation, also said President Clinton used the balanced budget debate to discredit Dole, a potential rival in next year's presidential campaign.

"The president and the Democratic leadership in the Senate decided this might be a pretty good shot at Bob Dole, because the leaders who voted for this last year voted against it this year, with President Clinton's blessing at least."

Hatfield joined 33 Democrats last week in sending the balanced budget amendment, which needed a two-thirds majority, to a one-vote defeat.

Hatfield, Dole said, "made a mistake, he's part of the leadership." Dole said he told the Oregon senator before the vote that his opposition was a reflection on Republicans and their leader, Dole.

Hatfield responded by offering to resign from the Senate, giving amendment supporters 66 of 99 votes, the two-thirds majority. "That's not an option, Mark," Dole said he replied.

But Dole added that by keeping his job, Hatfield, the chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, faces possible recriminations from his fellow Republicans.

Hatfield confirmed Dole's account about the resignation offer in a statement issued later Sunday.

"I made this offer out of loyalty to my party and out of loyalty to my leader," said Hatfield. "I was disturbed that some were using my vote to question his leadership. Sen. Dole declined my resignation and I proceeded to vote on the merits of the amendment as I saw them."

He added: "It is my intention to lead the Senate Appropriations Committee in taking the steps necessary to reduce the deficit immediately. ... We all need to work together to muster the political courage to make some very difficult decisions in the months and years ahead."

Hatfield's fellow Oregon Republican senator, Bob Packwood, told reporters in Oregon that "nothing is going to happen to Mark. He will remain as appropriations chairman. Could someone call for his removal? Yes. Will that happen? No, it will not, and it should not."

"If we start going down that road, what will be the next litmus test issue? If you start down that road, we'll soon be eating each other, and we will become political cannibals," said Packwood.

Sen. Majority Whip Trent Lott, R-Miss., blasted Hatfield on Saturday, saying it "exhibited an awful lot of arrogance for him to reject the feelings of his own constituency, his own legislative leaders, his colleagues in the Senate and his leadership, including Bob Dole."

Dole said GOP senators are drafting a letter concerning Hatfield's defection. There's a lot of frustration, and new members in particular "feel that this ought to be examined," Dole said.

Dole praised Hatfield for his support on most issues and said, "I'm not certain you single out somebody" for a single vote. Asked if Hatfield should step down as Appropriations chairman, Dole said, "I haven't made that judgment."

Former education secretary William Bennett, speaking on NBC's Meet the Press, said he didn't think Hatfield would be disciplined.

"I think he's already felt the heat," said Bennett, a Republican.

Dole denied that the defeat was a setback for his own political ambitions, saying the balanced budget amendment was now "going to be a big campaign issue."
