

Jeep Eagle Collegiate Health & Fitness Tour

PICTURE THIS:

A series of semitrailer trucks rolls onto your campus disgorging dozens of workers who quickly assemble a rock climbing wall a Velcro wall the space for a human bowling lane a track for flatland bungee running and many other wild events. But rather than setting up a ticket booth for all this entertainment the cost to you is zero. That's right the sporting equivalent of a free lunch. You may even win a prize or two for your efforts a net gain. The event called the Jeep Eagle Collegiate Health & Fitness tour travels to more than 100 schools around the US on two cross country sweeps.

The tour focuses on alternative activities for students who don't require drugs or alcohol. One of the tour's promoters, Boost Alcohol Conscious Concerning the Health of University Students, says the tour shows students how to achieve "natural highs" instead of using alcohol or other drugs.

Climbing is definitely a natural high one that can be achieved on the climbing wall at the tour. The wall a 30 foot rock like overhanging tower which comes equipped with ropes Reebok Cliffhanger shoes and climbing harnesses lets students battle gravity even if their campus is flatter than Florida.

If climbing isn't your sport of choice (try it before you dismiss your future as a human fly) you can try Human Bowling Gladiator Duel Baseball Radar Pitch Football Soccer Sumo Wrestling etc. Or maybe you saw David Letterman testing the limits of Velcro and always wanted to try it too the tour is your opportunity to set new limits for Velcro adhesion. Just don't hit the wall head first. If you're a golfer dominate the 18 hole miniature golf course.

If you're worried about your physical condition or think you should be stop by the tour's Prevention Center to get your blood pressure cholesterol heart rate weight and other vital signs checked out.

If all the free activity at the tour doesn't excite you the opportunity to win free stuff will. If you try the Reebok Computer Race a stationary bike race that pits you against six other riders you get a coupon good for cash off your next Reebok purchase. Plus you can win mountain bikes sunglasses a Jeep (needed to carry all the schwag) and many other freebies.
