and Oregon would not lose a beat. I know every athletic director [in the league] and I know the [Pac-10] commissioner.

"I can bring experience, a proven track record and leadership [to Oregon], and I think I'm a very organized person who's not afraid of challenges."

Cunningham has been a participant in numerous collegiate committees and would bring a national presence to Oregon.

He has been on the NCAA men's basketball, the women's issues and the officiating committees as well as the president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors.

He also posts experience with the buzz-word of today's athletics scene, Title IX.

"In a positive vein, I'm as well informed on [Title IX] issues as probably more than 90 percent of the people in our business," Cunningham said of the intricate gender-equity rule.

Fresno State competes as a Division I institution in the Western Athletic Conference. With a school enrollment of 19,500 in a metropolitan area of 500,000 residents, Cunningham has a solid foundation in the administration of a major university.

At Fresno State, he currently oversees an 18-sport program, including 10 men's and eight women's squads. That number will increase in the fall of 1995 when Fresno State adds women's soccer to the list.

So, why would Cunningham consider leaving Fresno State for Oregon?

"The Oregon job is perceived as a good job around the country by my colleagues and it's perceived as a good job by me," he said. "I can leave [Fresno State], if this works out, feeling very good."

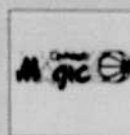

"I need some new challenges, and that's one of the reasons that I'm interested in [the Oregon AD position]."

1995 NBA PLAYOFFS

Boston CELTICS vs.
Orlando MAGIC

Season series: Orlando won 3-2.

KEY PLAYERS

Boston: Dino Radja (17.2 points, 8.7 rebounds), Sherman Douglas (14.7 points, 6.9 assists), Dominique Wilkins (17.8 points).

Orlando: Shaquille O'Neal (29.3 points, 11.4 rebounds, 53 percent foul shooting), Anfernee Hardaway (20.9 points, 7.2 assists), Horace Grant (9.7 rebounds), Dennis Scott (12.9 points off the bench, 43 percent 3-point shooting).

OUTLOOK:

After having the league's best record down the stretch, losing 6 of 11 in April and dropping their last seven road games. But Hardaway and Anderson are healthy now. Shaq will get his points even if the Celtics resort to putting O'Neal on the free throw line again.

Chicago BULLS
vs.
Charlotte
HORNETS

Season series: Charlotte won 3-2.

KEY PLAYERS

Chicago: Michael Jordan (26.9 points, 41 percent field goal shooting), Scottie Pippen (21.4 points, 8.1 rebounds, 5.2 assists, 2.9 steals), Toni Kukoc (15.7 points, 4.6 assists).

Charlotte: Alonzo Mourning (21.3 points, 9.9 rebounds, 2.9 blocks), Larry Johnson (18.8 points), Muggsy Bogues (11.1 points, 8.7 assists).

OUTLOOK:

Jordan came back from retirement for one reason — the playoffs. In his 17 games, the Bulls were 13-4. The Hornets' biggest task will be to avoid standing and watching the NBA's career playoffs scoring leader. Charlotte has been hit with a spate of late-season injuries to Bogues (knee bruise), Dell Curry (ankle) and Scott Burrell (ruptured Achilles tendon).

Denver NUGGETS
vs.
San Antonio
SPURS

Season series: San Antonio won 4-1.

KEY PLAYERS

Denver: Dikembe Mutombo (11.5 points, 12.5 rebounds, 3.9 blocks), Reggie Williams (13.4 points), Jalen Rose (8.2 points, 4.8 assists).

San Antonio: David Robinson (27.6 points, 10.8 rebounds, 53 percent field goal shooting), Dennis Rodman (16.8 rebounds), Avery Johnson (13.4 points, 8.2 assists), Sean Elliott (18.1 points).

OUTLOOK:

In disarray following Dan Issel's resignation, the Nuggets gained new life under the coaching leadership of Bernie Bickerstaff, culminating with their season-ending win over Sacramento to make the playoffs. But the Spurs won 21 of 23 down the stretch and have taken the last four games against Denver.

Portland TRAIL
BLAZERS
vs.
Phoenix
SUNS

Season series: Phoenix won 5-0.

KEY PLAYERS

Portland: Rod Strickland (18.9 points, 8.8 assists), Otis Thorpe (13.5 points, 6.9 rebounds), Clifford Robinson (21.3 points).

Phoenix: Charles Barkley (23.0 points, 11.1 rebounds), Kevin Johnson (15.5 points, 7.7 assists), Dan Majerle (15.6 points, 199 3-pointers), A.C. Green (8.2 rebounds).

OUTLOOK:

The Suns faltered after losing Danny Manning but won eight of their last nine down the stretch with a healthy Johnson. Look for Barkley, who averaged 26.3 points after the All-Star break, to be even more dominant in what is likely his last playoffs, although the Blazers will use their inside size against him. With the exception of Barkley, Phoenix is vulnerable up front.
