The Core Ensemble will perform Monday night at Beall Hall. The Music Today Festival ends this week.

The Music Today Festival is a University-sponsored community celebration of 20th century music. The festival is presented once every two years. This year it will run from April 6 to May 2.

The Eugene Ballet, Eugene Symphony, Eugene Concert Choir and the Hult Center have included modern works in their repertoires to help make this festival more than a University-based series of concerts.

The Music Today Festival is international and cross-cultural. It was created in 1993 by the University School of Music, under the direction of Robert Kyr, associate professor of composition. It is designed to give listeners a living connection to the concert music of the present century.

Wayang Kulit is one of the great musical dramatic forms of the East. Intricately-carved, flat, colorful leather puppets are pressed and moved upon a lighted screen.

The dalang (puppet-master) manipulates the puppets, narrates the story and handles the dialogue in a voice special to each character. he also sings and leads the 20-member gamelan in its almost never-ending musical accomplishment.

The Javanese Shadow Puppet Theater will be performed Sunday at 3 p.m. in Beall Hall.
