French Kiss - Opens Tonight

When her fiancé falls in love with a beautiful French woman in Paris, Kate (Meg Ryan of Sleepless in Seattle, When Harry Met Sally) follows him to the City of Lights to win him back. But Kate gets more than she bargained for after she meets a sexy, mysterious Frenchman named Luc (Kevin Kline of A Fish Called Wanda, Dave).

Together, Kate and Luc embark on an adventure that takes them across France and into an unexpected romance. Kate and Luc make an unlikely couple, but Kate is an innocent abroad, and Kate is determined to win back her wayward fiancé. The charming Luc is anything but innocent, and his offer to help Kate with her "mission" carries with it quite a few comic surprises.

Lawrence Kasdan (Grand Canyon, The Accidental Tourist) directs the film, which also stars Timothy Hutton (Ordinary People) and Jean Reno (La Femme Nikita).

While You Were Sleeping

There is something missing from Lucy's (Sandra Bullock of Speed, Demolition Man) life. Although she has an apartment, cat and a few friends from her job at the Chicago Transit Authority token booth, she doesn't have a family of her own and always spends holidays at work.

The good news is that Lucy has fallen in love with the gorgeous man she sees everyday at work. The bad news is that they have never met. When he is mugged and falls into the path of an oncoming train, Lucy saves his life. Visiting him at the hospital, she is mistaken as his fiancée. Since her dream man is in a coma, she decides not to deny the assumption.

When the man's family appears and identifies him as Peter Callaghan (Peter Gallagher), the close-knit family welcomes the chance to become part of their estranged son's life, and they include Lucy in their Christmas celebration.

Johnny Depp stars as a young man who believes he is the world's greatest lover in Don Juan DeMarco.

As Lucy gets to know Peter's brother, Jack (Bill Pullman of Sleepless in Seattle, The Last Seduction), she begins to realize you can't love someone until you know them, and she finds that she is falling in love with Jack.

Don Juan DeMarco

A young man (Johnny Depp of Ed Wood, Edward Scissorhands) stands perilously balanced on a narrow catwalk at the top of a billboard 40 feet above the street. Masked, cloaked in a flowing cape and wielding a raised sword, he claims to be Don Juan, the world's greatest lover, seducer of more than 1,000 women.

He is distraught, devastated by the loss of his one true love. Convinced there is nothing more to live for, he is suicidal.

The police, who are certain they are dealing with a madman, turn to Dr. Jack Mickler (Marion Brando of The Godfather, Apocalypse Now), who succeeds in bringing the young man down.

On the verge of retirement, Mickler, a highly-respected but burnt-out clinician, has the man committed and is given 10 days to evaluate the patient, offer a diagnosis and recommend treatment.

During the sessions that ensue, Don Juan recounts a fantastic and poetic odyssey of adventure and romance. Convinced of the young man's sanity, Mickler is forced to examine the importance of love and passion in his own life, as he rekindles the lost spark with his wife, Marilyn (Faye Dunaway of Chinatown, Network).

This is the first film to reunite producer Francis Ford Coppola with Brando since Apocalypse Now. The film was written and directed by Jeremy Leven.

The Basketball Diaries

Not yet released in Eugene, The Basketball Diaries is based on a raw, from-the-gut autobiography that chronicles Jim Carroll's (Leonardo DiCaprio of What's Eating Gilbert Grape) adolescent years as a Catholic high school basketball star.

His stark and exhilarating experiences with drugs, crime, sex and violence offer a vivid, authentic account of a rebellious teenager growing up in New York.

Sandra Bullock and Bill Pullman star in While You Were Sleeping.

The Basketball Diaries is a film about a group of longtime friends who spiral into a frightening and hazy street underworld ruled by the rush of getting high.

The film also stars Mark "Marky Mark" Wahlberg.
