OREGON DAILY EMERALD

MARK MCTYRE/Emerald

Ems manager Paul Runge isn't sleeping, but his team might as well have been against the A's this weekend.

■ BASEBALL: Eugene falls into division cellar

By Mark McTyre
 Sports Editor

The weekend proved to be no vacation for the Eugene Emeralds as they lost three of four games to the Southern Oregon Athletics at Civic Stadium. The losses moved the Ems into last place, one half-game behind the third-place Athletics and nine games behind Southern Division leader Portland.

After starting the four-game series off with a blast, when outfielder George Lombard crushed a grand slam over the right field fence and collected six total RBI in leading Eugene past the A's 8-2, the Ems dropped the next three in a row, losing each game by one run.

Starting tonight, the Ems will face Southern Oregon again — this time on the road. Eugene will try to break its three-game losing streak and also improve its less-than-outstanding road record of 7-17.

On the mound for the Ems tonight will be Jose Garcia, who holds a 2-2 record with a 3.50 ERA.
