ly to win his second straight Gold Glove next week and was the team's clubhouse leader. He was also the Reds' best player in the postseason, although that performance is not considered in the selection.

Larkin, who was on a cruise in Mexico when the award was announced, received 11 first-place votes and finished with 281 points. Bichette, whose 40 homers and 128 RBIs led Colorado to a wild-card playoff spot, got six first-place votes.

Maddux, 19-2 with a 1.63 ERA for the World Series champion Atlanta Braves, got seven first-place votes and 249 points. He is the first pitcher to finish as high as third in the NL MVP voting since Los Angeles reliever Mike Marshall in 1974.

"If you look at sheer numbers, there are guys who have more homers and RBIs," Reds second baseman Bret Boone said. "But it's nice to see people look at 'most valuable.' He was really great on our team. He was our leader."

Dodgers catcher Mike Piazza was fourth, getting three first-place votes and 214 points. The top four finishers were named on every ballot by members of the Baseball Writers Association of America. Ron Gant received the only other first-place vote.

Kearney: Beavers will take over on one-yard line of the game in the third quarter. So now that we prepare for Civil War — the only game that the Beavers seem to be able to muster a valiant effort for — the Beavers are probably spending much of their spare time practicing carrying their seniors off the field, a privilege that the Beavers have gotten to take advantage of the past few times they have visited Autzen Stadium.

But, several Oregon football players say that won't happen this year, plain and simple.

"That is like you walking into my house and telling me to get out of my chair and go sit over there and watch them have a good time," senior flanker Cristin McLemore said. "That really irritates me. To have the gall to sit up there and tell us that they are practicing for that, I think they probably should take that time to practice for the game a little bit more. It might help them out. That really, really gets me. I can't see how somebody is going to practice carrying their seniors off of the field when they have won one game.

"That really, really gets me. I can't see how somebody is going to practice carrying their seniors off of the field when they have won one game."

"And that is not going to happen this year, bottom line. They will not be carrying anything off of the field but the Gatorade bucket — full," he said.

Seeing that Oregon's seniors have never beaten the Beavers at home, it makes this game all the more important and gives the Ducks all the more incentive to win, senior safety Brian Collins said.

"Now the seniors' goals are to beat OSU here," Collins said, adding that he isn't expecting any Oregon State seniors to be carried off of the field. "I'm personally saying that won't happen this year, because the last two years they have gotten away with something. I personally feel that [the score] is not going to be close at all."

No worries, though, because if the Ducks do happen to get in a jam, all they have to do is let Oregon State drive to the Oregon one-yard line. The Beavers will take care of things from there.

Horoscope by Frances Drake

For Thursday, Nov. 16, 1995
ARIES
(March 21 to April 19)
You feel there's nothing you can't accomplish on the workfront. However, a sticky situation soon arises. As a result, you come to a standstill.
TAURUS
(April 20 to May 20)
Bigwigs ask you to take on more responsibilities, and their requests might be a bit unreasonable. Make sure that you can effectively accomplish the tasks.
GEMINI
(May 21 to June 20)
Scheduling problems result in a missed appointment with a friend. Be sure to set another date for the near future. Your friend has exciting news for you.
CANCER
(June 21 to July 22)
A close friend comes to you with a problem that has no easy answer. Consider your words of advice carefully. Some mixed signals result in your being unable to fulfill a family commitment.
LEO
(July 23 to Aug. 22)
You are taken by surprise by a certain person's demands on your time. You are correct to feel that this imperious attitude is unwarranted. Speak your mind.
VIRGO
(Aug. 23 to Sept. 22)
Shopping and good financial sense don't mix well at all. Leave those credit cards in a safe place so you won't spend what you don't have. Protect your interests on the workfront.
LIBRA
(Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)
The inspirations you received in the wee hours of the morning before arising should be held onto. You sometimes do your best thinking then. Get going on a creative project.
