

Proposals: Carpooling one of many other solutions

Continued from Page 1
display charts of the 15 different proposals to deal with the parking problem and people were asked to write down their comments.

"Autzen seemed to be the big issue," Ramey said. "There were two kinds of safety concerns: the safety of the car, and the safety of the person going from their car to campus," he said. "Both of these are very legitimate concerns." Students were also concerned about the inconvenience of parking at Autzen, Ramey said.

Although students were primarily concerned with the Autzen parking proposal, members of the Campus Planning Committee said students misunderstood the proposal.

"Autzen is one of many suggestions," said Joshua Akin, a physics senior and member of the planning committee. "Students have pointed to that suggestion more than the planning committee has."

Other proposals include promoting carpooling, publicizing bike routes and offering an emergency ride to people who rely on buses or other inflexible transportation.

MEET A FEW OF YOUR COURSE REQUIREMENTS THIS SUMMER WITH GEOGRAPHY COURSES:

EXPERIENCE THE WORLD FROM THE COMFORT OF CONDON HALL — AND TAKE CARE OF A FEW REQUIRED COURSES AT THE SAME TIME!

SCIENCE

GEOG 101 Natural Environment (Week 1-4)
GEOG 102 Global Environmental Change (Week 5-8)
GEOG 321 Climatology (Week 1-8)

SOCIAL SCIENCE

GEOG 104 Geography & Environment (Week 1-8)
GEOG 201 World Regional Geography (Week 1-8)

MULTICULTURAL

IC GEOG 201 World Regional Geography (Week 1-8)
IP GEOG 444 Geography of Languages (Week 1-8)

OTHER SUMMER COURSES

GEOG 407 Seminar Oregon Landscapes (Week 1-4)
GEOG 401 Environment Alteration (Week 1-4)

WANT TO KNOW MORE ABOUT THESE AND OTHER GREAT GEOGRAPHY CLASSES? CONTACT THE UO GEOGRAPHY DEPARTMENT FOR MORE INFORMATION. WE'RE IN CONDON HALL.
UO GEOGRAPHY DEPARTMENT

Law commencement open to public

CEREMONY: Two speakers will address 140 law school graduates at the Hult Center

By Jennifer Schmitt
Higher Education Reporter

A Portland attorney and winner of several law awards will speak about changes in the legal profession during her 40 years in practice as part of the School of Law's 110th annual commencement ceremony.

Noreen Salveit is the keynote speaker for the commencement ceremony, honoring 140 law school graduates on Sunday at 11 a.m. in the Silva Concert Hall at the Hult Center for Performing Arts.

Salveit, the sole female graduate of the School of Law's class of 1955, will receive a Meritorious Service award at the commencement.

"She is receiving this award based on a lifetime of work," said Jane Gordon, assistant dean for student affairs. "She has worked very hard in continuing legal education."

University President Dave Frohnmayer, former dean of the law school, will also be speaking to the graduates.

The graduating class had requested that he speak because he was the dean when they entered the School of Law and played an active role in their studies, Gordon said.

"They are very fond of him and felt he was an important leader in their education," she said. "This is the first year that he has spoken at the commencement ceremony."

Otto Frohnmayer, a 1933 Law School graduate and father of Dave Frohnmayer, will also be presented with a Meritorious Service Award from the School of Law.

"He epitomized the role of law as a service," Gordon said. "He is a person of integrity, humility and community commitment."

The Meritorious Service

Award is given by University law faculty in recognition of outstanding service to law education in Oregon, Gordon said.

Mustafa Kasubhai, Student Bar Association President and a graduating senior, will be speaking to graduates on ways to serve the public in the law profession.

"Basically, we need to invoke the need for creativity and passion in the legal profession and use that energy to serve the public," Kasubhai said.

Besides standard law curriculum, law students are encouraged to participate in extracurricular activities such as the Student Bar association, Kasubhai said.

"The curriculum is adequate but students need to really take responsibility for the student life and environment in the law school," he said. "Without an active participation we're nothing but technicians of the law."

The commencement ceremony is open to the public and will be followed by a reception at the University Law Center.

Saturday Market celebrates 26th birthday

FESTIVITIES: Politics and charity will be added to the market's music, food and handicrafts this weekend

By Melissa Lebahn
Community Reporter

Eugene's mayoral candidates will show off their talents at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday as part of the Eugene Saturday Market Founder's Day celebration.

In honor of the Eugene Saturday Market's 26th birthday the nine mayoral candidates will participate in a Mayor Search. Candidates will have up to five minutes to do a performance of their choice and one minute to make a persuasive political statement.

The winner of the contest will be chosen by audience applause. The market will also donate $250 to the charity of the winner's choice, excluding political campaigns of specific candidates, Assistant Manager of Saturday Market Kim Schramm said.

"All nine of the mayoral candidates have officially accepted the invitation and will perform various musical and dramatical speakings or readings," Schramm said.

Saturday Market located at 8th Avenue and Oak Street in downtown Eugene will start its Founder's Day entertainment with Shelley James and Callan Coleman playing eclectic jazz originals at 10 a.m. Tracy of Under the Hazel Tree will tell Celtic stories at 11 a.m. At noon, Bay Area trio, Nine Days Old, will play vibrant acoustic music with tight vocal harmonies. The Mayor Search will be at 1:30 p.m., and People's Choice will wrap up the celebration at 3 p.m. with roots reggae for dancing.

LITTLE CAESARS® IS NOW IN YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD.

©1993 Little Caesar Enterprises, Inc.

1711 Willamette Street
343-3330

Mon.-Fri. 11:00 a.m.-10:00 p.m. • Sat. & Sun. 11:00 a.m.-11:00 p.m.

Little Caesars®

Best Pizza Value in America. Carry Out... And Now Delivered!

©1996 Little Caesar Enterprises, Inc.

Run out of your favorite
DUCK BUCKS™
already?

GET

MORE.

Stop by

Suite 300

EMU, today.