

Change: Alexander excited about opportunity that before taking the field against Toronto.

"Yes, I will be playing third base tonight against the wishes of my nose doctor, who deems third base a whole lot more dangerous than shortstop," he said.

Clearly, Ripken was not distressed over the idea of returning to the position he played when he broke into the majors in 1981.

"It's not really a sad day for me. I'm playing a baseball game," Ripken said. "I'm going to be in there in the lineup like I always am. I'm going to look at it as a challenge, to see if third base is as comfortable as it was years ago."

Johnson hinted about making the move earlier this year, but carried through with his plan Monday, in the wake of a five-game losing streak that dropped the Orioles 10 games behind first-place New York in the AL East.

"I'd rather do it and be done with it," Johnson said. "My concern is with 25 players, not just Cal Ripken, as great as he is. To me, this is not that big a change, except that it involves a Hall of Fame player."

Ripken, who played in his 2,244th consecutive game Monday, was replaced at shortstop by Manny Alexander, 25, who has spent his entire career in the Orioles' organization operating in Ripken's formidable shadow.

Alexander is a lifetime .235 hitter, but Johnson has said for months he would like to see how the 5-foot-10 shortstop would fare if he played every day.

"We're 10 games out. I need to look and see if Alexander is going to be an important part of the ball club," Johnson said. "It's difficult playing behind a guy when he likes to play every inning and is the best at his position."

Johnson said the move was in no way a reflection on Ripken's performance. Ripken, 35, entered Monday's game with a .289 average and nine errors.

"He's done a great job, no question about it," Johnson said. "He's been a solid player. He'll be a solid player at third base. He's got the best hands of any shortstop in the league, but his range is limited. He's not a fast guy."

Johnson knew the move would be criticized, but decided it would be best for the team.

"I've still got a great player in the lineup, and we're going to find out about one of our younger players," he said. "If that's so bad, I'm sorry."

Alexander was delighted to finally get a chance to play the position he is most comfortable at.

"I'm excited because I'm playing shortstop," he said. "I didn't come here to take anyone's position, but it's been tough, not playing."

Emeralds: Team effort notches another win for Saul's troops scoring two in the top half after reliever Jason Flach loaded the bases with consecutive walks and a single to Randy Stearns. Peter Bergeron laced a single to center scoring two runners to tie the game.

But in the bottom half of the sixth, the Ems jumped back on top. Adam Johnson and Rust connected for back-to-back singles and both advanced a base when Bears catcher Josh Glassey let a pitch get away from him. Eric Pickett then hit a hard chopper to first base, scoring Johnson, giving Eugene the winning tally.

Koehler remains at 1-0, but is not to be concerned about personal records.

"The win doesn't matter to me," he said graciously. "My job is to keep it close. If I pull off a win, I pull off a win."

Adam Milburn finished the game on the mound for the Ems, giving him his third save of the year.

"You can't say enough about Milburn," Saul said. "He came in and got a left-hand hitter out and then he closed the game out for us."

Playing in place of regular second baseman Pooh Hines, who is injured, Angel Espada provided the offensive spark, getting on base three times, scoring two runs, stealing two bases and getting one RBI.

The win, coupled with division leading Boise's loss to Spokane brings the Ems within three games of the top.

Horoscope by Frances Drake

For Tuesday, July 16, 1996

ARIES
(March 21 to April 19)
It's a better time for finishing pending projects than plunging into new ventures. During daylight hours, you're low-key. However, after dark, you're effervescent and charming.

TAURUS
(April 20 to May 20)
You're not on sure footing where job interests are concerned. Your magnetic, romantic qualities surface in the evening. Couples enjoy a special outing together.

GEMINI
(May 21 to June 20)
Some plans you make involve travel, whether business or personal. It's not a good time for mixing friendship and business. You're effective in stating your views during the evening.

CANCER
(June 21 to July 22)
You receive some news in the morning regarding a financial matter. Generally, distractions at work interfere with progress. In fact, you get more done at home than on the job.

LEO
(July 23 to Aug. 22)
You're scattering your energies too widely. If you concentrate on one project, you can make important gains. Social and mental interests are highlighted in the evening.

VIRGO
(Aug. 23 to Sept. 22)
Doors open for you in business, but avoid taking financial risks. The evening finds you in an adventurous mood. Going out is especially favored.

LIBRA
(Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)
Finalizing travel plans won't come to fruition. Happily, teamwork leads to much accomplishment on the job. Loved ones are in sync and come to an agreement about finances.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)
As you look around, you realize there's much to be done on the home front. At work, new business developments are likely. The evening favors romance and good times.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)
Don't be fooled by all those pre-approved credit-card offers. You need to demonstrate restraint. Determination and drive combine to bring you success at work.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 19)
You find it slow-going early in the day because of mixed messages. However, you have extra drive and make up for lost time. Enjoy home life after dark.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 20 to Feb. 18)
You're better off saving money than spending it. Be sure to avoid costly business ventures. Anything requiring you to pay fees up front could be a scam.

PISCES
(Feb. 19 to March 20)
A relative isn't stating his case clearly, and you're not sure what's going on. Fortunately, a close friend has the key. Your communication skills are tops in the evening.

YOU BORN TODAY love collecting things and have a great feeling for anything to do with history. You often collect antiques and hate to throw anything away. You tend to be patriotic and love your home and country. You are kind, caring and devoted to those you love. You might be attracted to a career in real estate, cooking, art or history. You direct much of your energy toward home improvements, the land and community concerns.

BUYER BEWARE

The Oregon Daily Emerald assumes no liability for ad content or response. Ads are screened for illegal content and mail order ads must provide a sample of item for sale. Otherwise, ads that appear too good to be true, probably are.
Respond at your own risk.

Depressed? You can earn $15 by participating in our screening procedure, and possibly another $20 when you qualify for research on emotion. In the Brain Electrophysiology Lab, located in the Psychology Dept of the University of Oregon, we are studying how the electrical activity of the brain changes with different emotional states. If we find after the screening procedure that you qualify, your brain waves will be recorded as you play a computer video game. If you are now feeling depressed, call Kate Harkness (346-4964) to set up a time for a screening. All data is coded by number to maintain confidentiality. You may participate only if you are 18 years of age or older.
