Stanford second-year head coach Tyrone Willingham has big plans for his team, hoping the Cardinal can once again receive a bowl berth.

Preview: Stanford needs to improve defense to compete what they're capable of, the team and the fans must forget about the disastrous games against Oregon, Southern California and Iowa of last year.

5. Stanford

S Under first-year head coach Tyrone Willingham, the Cardinal surprised everyone last year by finishing the season with a winning record and a berth to the Liberty Bowl. Willingham earned Pac-10 Coach of the Year honors for his team's achievement.

In the past, the Cardinal has been a highly potent team via the air, but last season Stanford did a 180-degree turn using its running game. Backs Anthony Bookman and Mike Mitchell combined for 1,465 yards and look to add to their totals this season.

Stanford will try to stretch opposing defenses with deep threat Brian Manning, who caught 40 balls last season.

Stanford's defense virtually has no place to go but up this year, as the Cardinal ranked ninth in the Pac-10 in total defense and gave up 184.1 yards per game on the ground. The one highlight from last year's team was inside linebacker Chris Draft, who collected 103 tackles.

Willingham has set high goals for his team this year, expecting nothing but the best from his athletes.
