Visiting professor to lecture on Mexico

Students and community members are invited to learn more about the impact of Mexico's economic and social upheaval at a free public lecture tonight.

David Barkin, a professor of economics at the Metropolitan University-Xochimilco in Mexico City, will speak this evening at 7:30 in 100 Willamette. His talk is titled "Current Mexican Economic and Social Conflicts: Danger and Opportunity."

Barkin has written many books and articles about the political economy of Mexico and the environment.

The event is sponsored by the Department of Political Science, Labor Education and Research Center.

For more information, call Dan Goldrich at 346-4816.

POLICE beat

*A 21-year-old man was arrested and charged with two counts of manslaughter Friday, Sept. 27, according to the Eugene police department. He was driving a car involved in a fatal accident on Sept. 21. The car slammed into a light pole on 7th Avenue and two male passengers, ages 27 and 26, died as a result of injuries suffered in the accident. The driver was arrested as he was being released from Sacred Heart Hospital where he was treated for injuries sustained in the wreck.
