Davis, Oregon capture second in Seattle

Although the lean ranks of the 18th-ranked Oregon women's cross country team grew temporarily leaner as freshman Annie Ebner missed Saturday's Sundodger Invite, the Ducks responded with a strong showing by taking second place with 97 points.

Sophomore Marie Davis led the team for the third-consecutive weekend and almost pulled off her second overall victory. Davis finished second in a time of 17:20.44, only seven seconds shy of winner Sarah Howell, a former Canadian Olympic 3000-meter qualifier. Davis finished as the top collegian and closed in on Howell in the final kilometer and moved up from fifth to second place in the process.

With former California prep standout Ebner resting a sore Achilles tendon this weekend, sophomore Heather McMahon and junior Kaarin Knudson stepped up to place 12th and 13th overall in times of 17:46.50 and 17:47.55, respectively. Among the collegiate finishers, the duo ranked seventh and eighth.

Ducks cruise to win at Sundodger Invite

The fifth-ranked Oregon men's cross country team proved to northwest teams why they own such a high ranking by taking first place at the Sundodger Invite in Seattle on Saturday.

Senior Karl Keska led the way as Oregon finished with 32 points.

"It was a real team effort today," Oregon head coach Bill Dellinger said. "It was a little close early on but we finished up strong with Karl winning it pretty easily. We're continuing to improve as a team and we worked together when we needed to."

Keska, who led from start to finish in the event, finished ahead of all other competitors in a course record time of 24-minutes, 4.43-seconds. Keska's mark was a 29-second improvement over Graham Fell's previous mark.

Duck Classic attracts strong competition

Amidst a field of nationally-ranked teams and players, all Oregon singles players and doubles teams were defeated in the first round of the Duck Classic tennis tournament this weekend.

Junior Allison Sosnow was the only Duck to advance past the first round of consolation play. Sosnow's run was ended in the consolation championship of Flight II when she lost to Colorado's Emily Smith 7-5, 6-1.

Laura Olave of Louisiana State took the Flight I championship with a two-set victory over her teammate Ana Paula Mores. In Flight I doubles action, Jeanette Bhagandas and Sarah Donovan of San Diego State downed Olave and Mores for the championship.
