Madonna's daughter to read Bible and not watch TV

The Associated Press

LONDON — Madonna may not be your everyday symbol of family values, but her baby daughter, Lourdes, is going to read the Bible and have TV strictly rationed.

Married motherhood, however, is not part of the plan, the star of "Evita" says in an interview with a British monthly magazine, "She."

"She'll certainly know about Catholicism," Madonna, 38, said of Lourdes, who was born Oct. 15. "I want my daughter to read the Bible, but I will explain to her that these are stories that people made up to teach people — it's not the rule."

Madonna, who plays Eva Peron in the new movie of the musical "Evita," said she is getting tired of people being snuffy about her not marrying Lourdes' father, Carlos Leon.

"For some reason I'm being held up as some anti-family symbol," said Madonna. "I know lots of married people who have terribly unhealthy relationships — marriage isn't a guarantee of anything."

Television, however, is pure "poison," added Madonna.

"To be plopped in front of a TV instead of being read to, talked to or encouraged to interact with other human beings is a huge mistake, and that's what happens to a lot of children."
