

SDSU: Aztecs are winless against Pac-10 teams this season

the Aztecs is forcing 27.4 turnovers a game and has forced at least 20 in 26 of their 29 games. Nowlin-Tres led the WAC in steals, and senior point guard Sandy Wright averages 2.8 a game. Over half their opponent's turnovers came from Aztec steals.

"They're a great defensive team, one of the best in the country," said Oregon forward Arianne Boyer. "They like to create turnovers, get steals, go the other way and make easy baskets."

Offensively the Aztecs look for Wright to push the ball up the floor and distribute the basketball to the wings. Wright was second in the WAC in assists at 5.8 per game.

"We push in the transition and try to get it out to the wings," Wright said. "I try to get everybody involved by pushing the ball."

Because of their lack of size, the Aztecs are more of a perimeter team, with no go-to-player in the post. Their tallest player receiving significant minutes is 6-foot-2 freshman Courtney Bale, who averages 3.7 points a game in 16 minutes of action.

Burns has been giving extended minutes to three freshmen and one junior college transfer this year.

"We're a totally different team last year compared to this year," Burns said of the Aztec team that played in Eugene last year.

The three-point shot has not been a consistent weapon for the Aztecs, as they have managed to connect on just 68-of-251 three-pointers this season. Burns said her team is most comfortable in the 15 to 16 foot range.

Olivia DiCamilli, a 5-foot-11 junior forward and second team all-WAC performer, is second on the team in scoring with 10.7 a game while pulling down 6.7 rebounds. She also leads the team in minutes played with 31.4 a game.

Junior college transfer Shaneya Harris has also been an impact player for the Aztecs. She was named to the Pacific division all-defensive team and all-newcomer team. The 5-foot-11 forward is averaging 9.7 points and 4.5 rebounds in 28 minutes of play.

The teams's leading field-goal shooter, senior La-Taya Woods, has been a threat off the bench for the Aztecs with 7.9 points and 5.1 rebounds a game while shooting 54.9 percent from the floor.

After starting the season 5-5, the Aztecs have finished the season winning 18 of their last 19. They have played five NCAA Tournament teams this season, with their only win being a 56-50 win against Utah last week in the WAC championship game. Utah is a No. 5 seed in the West Region.

Against Pacific-10 Conference teams this season, San Diego State is 0-2 with a 71-60 loss to USC and a 66-48 loss to Arizona.
