Aztecs' defense key to tourney success

■ SDSU: Team's pressure defense forces 27.4 turnovers a game this season

For the San Diego State women's basketball team, (23-6 overall, 15-1 Western Athletic Conference), the name of the game is defense.

The Aztecs lead the nation in scoring defense, allowing 51 points per game. And the 71 points they surrendered to USC on Dec. 1 is the most scored by an opponent all season.

"I think that our team has been able to achieve what we have because of our high level of energy," said Aztecs head coach Beth Burns, who was voted WAC Coach of the Year after guiding her team to its third conference title in the last four years.

"Everybody now is very defensive-minded," said Jodi Nowlin-Tres, the senior forward who leads the team with 16 points, 7 rebounds and 3.4 steals a game.

Burns said the team's high-energy defense leads to scoring opportunities.

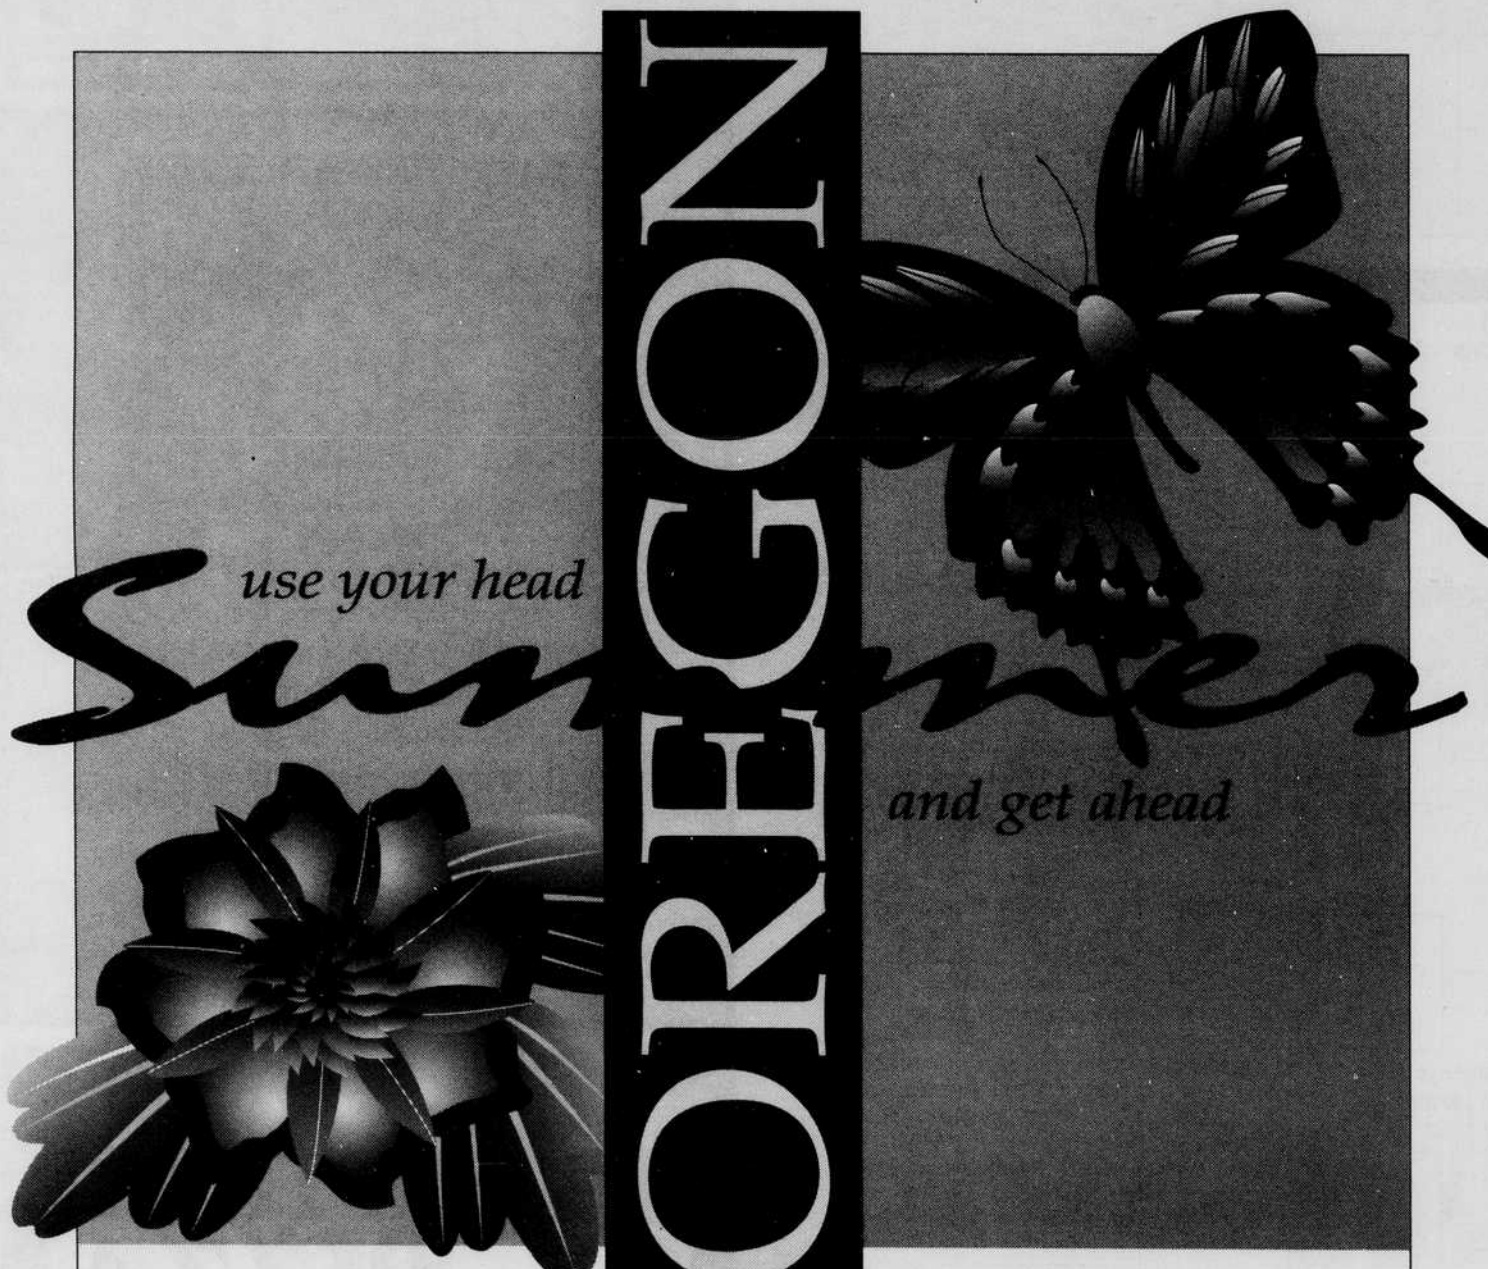

"We play 95 feet of defense," Burns said. "We get a lot of points off our defense."

Oregon head coach Jody Runge recognizes San Diego State's defense prowess. Last year the Ducks escaped a narrow 57-52 victory in Eugene.

"They're a very aggressive team," said Runge. "They play full-court man-to-man defense in your face."
