Defense shines in scrimmage

■ FOOTBALL: All three quarterbacks remain in position for starting job next fall

The Ducks put a few more worries over the defense behind them Friday in the last scrimmage before the spring football game this Saturday. Gang Green resurfaced and smothered the Ducks' offense, scoring four times along the way.

"Obviously our defense dominated," Oregon head coach Mike Bellotti said. "I was encouraged by that. I think we picked up today where we left off last year."

Safety Chris Lewman made one of the bigger plays of the day for the Ducks, picking off a pass thrown by A. J. Feeley and returning it 81 yards for a touchdown.

Defensive end Caleb Smith got in on the action as well, batting down a pass by Jason Maas and returning it most of the way before lateraling to linebacker Peter Sirmon for the score.

Sirmon also recovered a fumble in the end zone for another defensive score, and the defense also caught tailback Saladin McCullough in the end zone early in the game for a safety.

Although the defense stood out Friday, one of the primary goals for the team is to find a new starting quarterback; however, not one of the three candidates played much better than the other two.

Akili Smith completed 5-of-8 passes for 34 yards, A. J. Feeley was 2-of-4 for 21 yards and Jason Maas completed 11-of-15 for 107 yards.

There were a few bright spots other than the defense on the day. McCullough returned a kickoff 100 yards for a touchdown to go along with his 14 yards rushing on seven carries.

Kevin Parker moved back to tailback after starting out the spring season as a cornerback. He had 10 carries for 25 yards and three receptions for 29 yards.

Pat Johnson led the receivers with six receptions for 50 yards, while tight end Jed Weaver caught two passes for 18 yards.

"We still have a long way to go, and there is a lot of work to be done," Bellotti said.

UO men, women lose at Washington

■ TENNIS: Women push four singles matches to three sets before losing

By Ryan Frank
Sports Editor

The Oregon men's and women's teams concluded their dual match seasons with losses to Washington in Seattle Saturday.

The Oregon women (8-9 over-all) dropped their match 7-2 after winning the first two singles matches, while the men suffered a 5-2 defeat.

Alina Wygonowska and Andrea Petrovic took the No. 1 and No. 2 singles matches, respectively, in straight sets before the Huskies swept the final four singles matches. However, the Ducks pushed all four of their losses in singles play to three sets.

Ali Napier, playing at the No. 3 position, lost the first set, then won the second 6-4 and lost the third 7-5.

No. 4 singles player Allison Sosnow won the first set of her match 7-5, then won just three games in the next two sets.

In doubles play, the Ducks lost all three matches. The Ducks' No. 2 and No. 3 doubles teams won six games in their matches, but suffered 8-6 losses.

And Oregon's No. 1 doubles team of Shanelle Kaneshiro and Sosnow, which is No. 34 in the nation, lost 8-2.

On the men's side, Guillermo Carter and Mike Goldstein were the only Ducks (5-17) to record wins in singles play.

After losing his first set, Carter took the next two to defeat Sasha Rampazzo at the No. 3 singles position.

Goldstein, playing at No. 6 singles, also dropped his first set before coming back for the three-set victory over Nick Quatrochi.

All other Ducks lost in straight sets.

In doubles action, Carter teamed up with Joaquin Hamdan at the No. 3 position to win five games, but lost the match 8-5. The Ducks' No. 1 and No. 2 doubles teams both lost their matches 8-3.
